

REVOLT IN GREEK NAVY LIKELY TO BE VERY SERIOUS

Lieut. Tibaldos Demands He Be Made Minister of Marine.

Threatens to Upset Government and Establish a Dictatorship.

May Win Over the Fleet and Carry Out Threats.

Athens, Greece, Oct. 29.—An actual revolt in the navy has taken place and the situation is acute. The band of naval officers, which on Wednesday quitted the capital and withdrew to the island of Salamis, today seized the arsenal there and are now entrenched. They met no opposition. The rebels are led by officer Tibaldos and are reported to number 200 men. The government has proclaimed Tibaldos a traitor and ordered his arrest.

Threatens a Dictatorship.

Lieut. Tibaldos, who leads the revolt, is the commander of a fleet of torpedo boats and submarines. It appears that he demands that he be appointed minister of marine, and threatens if this is not conceded that he will overthrow the government and establish a dictatorship. Tibaldos succeeded in winning over the fleet, as it is rumored he will, it is feared that he will be in a position to carry out his threats.

Meanwhile, an element in the military league, which is opposed to the revolt has just issued a proclamation (Continued on page 3, third column)

PREDICTS REVOLUTION THROUGHOUT SPAIN

DEPUTY JAURES.

M. Jaures, the Socialist leader in the French chamber of deputies, was the leader of the 10,000 voters who tried to attack the Spanish embassy in Paris the night after Perrier was shot in Spain. Jaures predicted that if Perrier was shot a conflagration would be started which would end the existing regime until Spanish political life has been purged of clerical influences. Jaures is one of the best known Socialists in Europe.

HE ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

La Follette Replies to "Uncle Joe" and Denounces Cannonism.

Voters of the Party Will Decide Who Are Republicans.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Speaker Cannon's challenge to read out of the Republican party such chaff as Cummins, La Follette and "their followers" was accepted today by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. Notice of willingness to enter the contest is served upon Speaker Cannon through La Follette's "week-end" harangue. Cannonism is ridiculed and his discredited doctrine is held up as the "swarriors of a grim old world who hears the beaters in the woods, and scents them closing in."

YOUNG WOMEN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Five Carried Out of Burning Cleveland Building By Firemen.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 29.—The S. S. Kresge & Co., 5-and-10-cent notion store on Ontario street was destroyed by fire today. On July 3, 1908, eight persons were burned to death in a fire in the same store, by an explosion of fireworks.

Today's blaze in the Kresge store followed closely a fire which last night destroyed the Severance block on West Third street, causing a loss of $140,000. Several young women had a narrow escape. Five were carried out of the building in the arms of firemen.

No one was injured in the Kresge fire today. The loss will approximate $400,000. Defective wiring was given as the cause.

PHOTOGRAPHER LOSES EYESIGHT

Flashlight Powder Exploded When He Was Examining It.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 29.—A. S. Lyndon, a local photographer, was so badly hurt by the explosion of flashlight powder last night that it is thought his eyesight has been destroyed. When the accident happened, Lyndon was photographing the order of Sphinx, a university society, after an initiation meeting. The flashlight failed to burn, but exploded when the victim began examining it.

Lyndon is well known to thousands of University of Michigan students having been a familiar figure with his camera on the athletic field and at all student events where photographs have been taken.

THREE-CORNERED MAYORALTY FIGHT GETTING RED HOT

New York Committees and Candidates Are Very Active.

Mass Meetings at Midnight and Gathering in Early Morning.

New York, Oct. 29.—With only three more days remaining in which to pull together loose ends, the committees and candidates in New York's three-cornered mayoralty contest are running the political looms overtime. Last night's activities had hardly ceased when today's began. There was barely a breathing space between the close of the big mass meetings at midnight and a gathering at 2 o'clock this morning just of Newspaper Row, where the host of night workers in the downtown offices were invited to support the Tammany ticket.

William J. Gaynor, the Democratic candidate for mayor, was billed to be present, but the unusual hour was evidently too much for the candidate, who sent a letter begging to be excused, pleading his age and the fact that he was ailing.

IMMENSE TRAFFIC ON GREAT LAKES

Merchandise Tonnage May Equal the Banner Year of 1907.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Traffic on the Great Lakes is maintaining its high average, according to figures of the volume of domestic trade from lake ports during last month. The bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor announced today that the traffic amounted to 12,527,000 tons, as compared with 5,458,000 tons in September of last year and 11,137,000 net tons during the same month in the year preceding.

There is good prospect that the close of the season of navigation on the lakes will see a total merchandise tonnage equal to that shipped during the banner year of 1907.

During September 10,011 vessels cleared at the various ports. These vessels had a combined tonnage of 15,067,459 net tons. A noteworthy increase in unclassified freight, including packages, was a feature of the month, indicating that this business had been very active. During the thirty days ending Sept. 29, there were handled 1,043,211 tons of this class of freight, an amount far in excess of any other month in previous years. During last month there was an increased tonnage of soft coal, but a corresponding falling off in hard coal. Lumber and pig iron and from manufacturers showed considerable gains over September of last year, but wheat, salt and copper did not move so freely.

RESPONSE GRATIFYING

Fund for the Governor Johnson Memorial Has Reached $1,518.

Employees of the Water and Light Department Contribute $25.

The Johnson Memorial Fund today stands as follows:

Previously acknowledged...$1,479.77
Received up to noon today...39.00
Total to date...$1,518.77

The Herald's fund for the Governor John A. Johnson memorial has passed the $1,500 mark. A check for $25 was received this morning from the employees of the Duluth water and light department, and this handsome donation raised the total above $1,500, and it was further increased by individual contributions, including four from Hibbing and others from Virginia, Mesaba, Sandstone and Brooklyn, N. Y. The response to the appeal by those who inaugurated the monument to the late governor has been very gratifying, and in view of the fact that the maximum amount of each subscription was limited to $1, the total sum received shows that a very large number of people have contributed. The Herald will be glad to receive further contributions. (Continued on page 3, second column)

THIRTY-FIVE ARE INJURED

Immigrants in Train Collision on the Chicago & Erie Railroad.

One Killed and Ten Injured By Street Car Jumping Track.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 29.—In a collision between a westbound immigrant train and an eastbound freight train this morning at Toccoa on the Chicago & Erie railroad, thirty-five immigrants—men, women and children—were injured, some of them perhaps fatally. The fireman of the freight locomotive was badly hurt, but no others of the train crews were seriously injured.

The airbrakes of the freight train failed to work and it plowed into the immigrant train, which was standing still. The freight train telescoped one coach and ditched some others.

One Killed, Ten Injured.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 29.—One woman was killed and ten other persons injured today by a seventeenth avenue car getting beyond control on a steep hill and jumping the track at Cort Place.

As the car started on the descent of Seventeenth street, hill the brakes failed to work, and the motorman shouted back to the passengers to jump. Many did so, but there were fifty passengers left in the car when it reached the foot of the hill. She was Mrs. Roderick, who was killed, was walking along the sidewalk. She was struck over upon her after striking a telephone pole.

Two Men Killed.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Two railroad men killed, and three others injured, an engine demolished, the wall of a freight house caved in, and dozens of freight cars wrecked in the result of a freight train taking a wrong switch here today. CHEADLE IN THE RUNNING

Will Accept the Democratic Nomination Under Certain Conditions.

Insists That He Be Allowed to Frame Own Platform.

H. W. Cheadle, city clerk, announced this morning that he will run for the office of mayor under certain conditions, when waited upon by the Democratic committee.

Mr. Cheadle stated that he would not consider the matter if he were to have a fight at the primaries, and that he will not accept if the party can find some other satisfactory man who will consent to make the race. This is considered unlikely as Dr. Cullum, the only other candidate mentioned, has practically withdrawn from the race.

Mr. Cullum stated in his letter to the committee that he would not run unless the committee was unable to find a man who would consent to make the race. (Continued on page 15, fifth column.)

OFFICERS TAKE OUT AEROPLANE

Make an Ascension During the Absence of Wilbur Wright.

College Park, Md., Oct. 29.—Eager to continue practice navigation of the air during the absence of the Wrights, their instructor, Lieutenants Lahm and Humphreys had the government's aeroplanes brought out today on the aviation field here and, although considerable breeze was stirring, made an ascension. Starting in the face of the wind, the aeroplane rose before it had reached the end of the track. The aeroplane started off with a burst of speed, and when it became necessary to make a turn the lieutenants concurred not to risk it in the strong wind, and made a landing. The wind increasing, the machine was safely housed.

ASTOR SUIT IS NEARLY ENDED

Not Known Whether Separation or Absolute Divorce Is Asked.

New York, Oct. 29.—Testimony in the reported suit which Mrs. John Jacob Astor has brought against her husband, Col. Astor, is practically concluded, and it was stated today that the papers in the case would be submitted by Reference Charles H. Young to Justice Mills of the supreme court in Dutchess county, and that the papers would be filed with the clerk of the court in Poughkeepsie.

It is said that after Justice Mills has approved the papers they will be sealed up and the contents kept from the public. Counsel in the case will neither deny nor affirm the report that the suit is not one for separation, but for absolute divorce.

The Canadian Northern Files Deeds Covering Its Right of Way.

Road Has Forty Acres Near Fairmont Park for Yards.

Engineers Explain Why They Cannot Change Protested Route.

The filing for record in the register of deeds office of the right-of-way deeds, and the deed covering forty acres in West Duluth for yards, brought from the local attorneys of the Canadian Northern Railway company this morning a definite announcement of the route to be followed from Virginia to Duluth and through West Duluth to the dock site secured by the company at the foot of Forty-ninth avenue west.

From Italy Junction the line will turn slightly west in following a general southerly direction until it gets into range 16, which will be followed in almost a straight line down into Carlton county in 49-16. There, the light will turn easterly, running through Short Line park and Ironton into Duluth.

The company has purchased the right-of-way quarter the northwest quarter of section 13, 49-15, lying along Sixty-ninth avenue west and somewhat up on the hill, for yard purposes. Running through the yards, the main line curved in the Kent street yards of the New York Central railroad.

BARGE SUNK AND ONE IS DROWNED

Steamer in Collision and the Scared Passengers Rush on Deck.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Oct. 29.—The steamer Powhattan of the Merchants' & Miners' line, carrying twenty-five passengers and a full cargo of freight from Boston to Baltimore, was in collision last night off the Shoals Lightship, with the Shenandoah, one of a tow of three barges in charge of the tug International. The barge was sunk and her engineer drowned. Three other members of the Shenandoah's crew were picked up by the Powhattan. The latter craft reached here today with her bow plates much bent. All of the passengers on the Powhattan were awakened by the shock of the collision. Many of them ran on deck, and only in their night clothes and blankets which they had thrown around them. It was a few minutes before it was ascertained that the Powhattan had not suffered materially in the collision, but meanwhile the steamer's officers succeeded in calming the fear of the passengers.

CONFIDENCE IN GUIDES

Barrill and Printz Indorsed By Meeting at Hamilton, Mont.

Dr. Cook Makes Affidavit That He Climbed Mount McKinley.

Hamilton, Mont., Oct. 29.—After a stormy session lasting until after midnight, a large meeting addressed by Dr. Frederick A. Cook adopted a resolution expressing confidence in the veracity of Barrill and Printz, the guides who made affidavits that Cook did not climb Mount McKinley.

The meeting started with an address by Dr. Cook, in which he attacked his enemies for disputing his claims to having climbed Mount McKinley, and declared he would prove they had spent money corruptly to obtain the affidavits against him.

Attorney Crutcheff, attorney for the guides, questioned Cook after his address, and then the excitement broke forth. Crutcheff challenged Cook's statements. This brought on a discussion, the fellow-townsmen of the guides taking sides. Audience offered a resolution at this point asking that the meeting declare a lack of faith on the part of the entire people of Montana in all matters about which Dr. Cook made claims.

A member of the audience offered a resolution at this point asking that the meeting declare a lack of faith on the part of the entire people of Montana in all matters about which Dr. Cook made claims.

Attorney Roland White of San Francisco, who happened to be in the audience, said that he had seen Cook in the audience. (Continued on page 3, second column)

NOT PLAYING FAVORITES

Norman Mack Tells About Next Democratic Presidential Candidate.

Harmon Is Growing in Strength and Marshall Coming Fast.

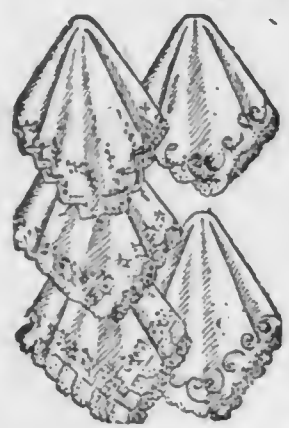

Washington, Oct. 29.—"I do not believe that Bryan will be the next Democratic candidate for the presidency," Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, gave this opinion yesterday. In reply to a question as to whom he thought the next Democratic candidate for the presidency would be, Mr. Mack declared that, being chairman, he could not play favorites.

"Haven't you published the fact that Judson Harmon, governor of Ohio, would be your choice for the next president?"

"No, his speech made in Dallas and his picture were published just as have been those of other prominent Democrats. There is no doubt, however, that Governor Harmon is growing in strength throughout the country. He is an able man, and as a Democratic leader who won in a former public election is gaining more and more popularity. But there is Marshall, governor of Indiana, who turned the same trick on the Republicans in his state that Harmon did in Ohio. He, too, is coming ahead fast as a national figure."

MRS. SARA E. SCOTT.

A well-known woman of Camden, N. J., writes an interesting letter praising Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for relieving her husband and herself of serious stomach troubles.

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me and my husband a great deal of good. At times when I could not eat or retain anything on my stomach, a tablespoonful of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey would give me strength and relieve me of that tired nervous feeling."

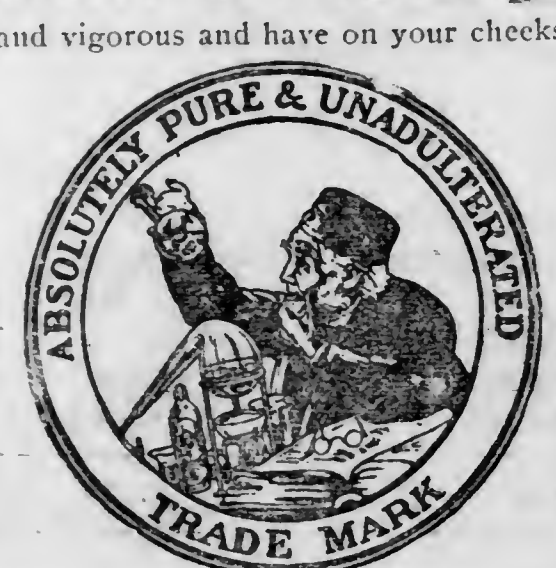

My husband had stomach trouble and indigestion from childhood. It became so bad, he had had to quit work. He began taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, a tablespoonful before meals and at bedtime. He was soon able to go to work, and eat a hearty meal.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is palatable, and agreeable to the most sensitive stomach. I certainly am a friend of yours for the benefits derived from your medicine and heartily recommend it to all." Mrs. Sara E. Scott, 502 N. 5th Street, Camden, N. J.

WELFARE OF THE CHILD

Ambition of Largest Trust Is to Aid Subnormal Children.

To Embrace Every Society Having to Do With Youth.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 29.—The newly organized Child Study Conference for Research and Welfare, which has just been completed at Clark university, Worcester, represents the formation of the latest and largest trust in the world, and its aim is the welfare of the American child. So large has its basis of activity become that the president, Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark university, is already in receipt of hundreds of letters from parents asking information regarding defective children or subnormal children.

The work has been going on only for a few weeks, but so great is its scope that it will embrace every organization in the country having in any way to do with children. Dr. Henry S. Curtis, known for his connection with the lay movement in America, has been at Worcester for several months, and his work has been in the line of arousing interest in the conference, obtaining subscriptions to carry on the work, and arranging for a conference of secretaries of other organizations.

The new work is the outcome of the conference for child welfare held at the university last July, at which was represented practically every society having to do with children, either in homes or in schools. This conference was called together by Dr. Hall, who is recognized as one of the world's leading experts in the matter of child study, and was the ultimate aim of it all the organization that since has been formed.

Dr. Hall explains his motive for this child conference in these words: "There is nothing on earth quite so worthy of love, reverence and respect as the body and soul of the growing child; nothing so full of possibilities, so fertile and so responsive to good influences, and so quick to wise care and wholesome environment. Child philanthropy and charity must henceforth go hand in hand with pathology, or the scientific knowledge of the child. This will make all the difference in the world, more effective and intelligent and will give scientific study a practical direction."

"This has been called the century of the child. We are beginning to realize that our age, so absorbed in its intense adult activities, has lost touch with the nature and needs of childhood. Happily now there is new spirit abroad in this regard—a love of the naive and unconscious. There is a kind of Copernican revolution now well under way, whereby service to the child is being placed at the center, and all things in the school, home, methods, means, and ends, are being put in proportion as they minister to childhood. Is there any better test of an age or a civilization than the love it does for the ever higher development of the young? While this period is increasing in the same ratio that the adult world is advancing."

The officers for the conference include: President, Dr. Hall; vice president, Judge Benjamin B. Lindsey of Iowa; Dr. C. W. Van Dusen, Boston; Miss Patty S. Hill, kindergarten of New York; and Hastings H. Hart, of the Russell Sage foundation, secretary. Dr. Henry S. Curtis, acting treasurer; Dr. Louis N. M. Child, director of the college; executive committee, Dr. Hall, Dr. Curtis, Mrs. Pringle, Mrs. Child, Mrs. Mothers' congress; Miss Patty S. Hill and C. C. Carstens.

The constitution of the newly organized conference outlines its aims thus:

"To promote child research and its application, as follows:

(a). To secure co-operation between institutions and organizations engaged in scientific study of the child, and societies and individuals working for child betterment.

(b). To provide parents and teachers and others having the responsibility of the care of a child with the results of the scientific study of childhood.

Dr. Hall further explains its aims thus:

"For years with my associates I have been making a study of child nature. We have gathered a great amount of valuable information and facts on every phase of the child's development. On the other hand, there are numerous societies working in a practical way to improve conditions surrounding child life. Each organization has gone ahead, all in different lines, with only a vague knowledge of this great fund of scientific information which we have discovered."

"To pool our interests, to weld them together, the practical and the scientific—let the practical worker know the child problems and let the university worker solve them. It is all very simple, and resembles in a way the operations of a great oil trust or of a great railroad combining its lines to pool our interests and our knowledge and are quick to get quicker and more effective results."

Dr. Curtis, the secretary, in discussing the plan for the co-operation of the scientific investigator and the practical worker, said:

"To this end there is already a project for a summer school, to be held at Clark university next year, lasting possibly four or five weeks. The aim of this summer school will be to bring the practical worker, with his or her problems, and the scientific worker together. The worker will get the benefit of the other's studies and the deductions he has arrived at, while the student will get the benefit of the practical working out of the problem."

"Under present conditions scientists are making investigations and researches along their own lines and practically of their own accord. If the different scientists get together and submit suggestions to the different scientists and investigators, then there will be more practical results, as they have more definite ideas to carry out."

The first move of the secretary was the sending out of appeals for money to finance the school during its first year. This appeal for $5,000 was signed by Dr. Hall, Judge Lindsey and Mrs. Schoff. The next move was making a tour of the different organizations now in existence having to do with child life. This tour has just begun and is still going on. The aim is to get the secretaries interested in a conference of secretaries to be held in the near future.

This Child Conference for Research and Welfare must not be confused with the Child Study Institute, which is being opened at Clark university, a continuance of the work along child study, which has been a feature of the university for the past twenty years. The conference will work with the institute just as it will with any other society, but it is entirely a separate movement.

The institute is to have ten departments, all devoted to child study. Dr. Hall has been recognized as the leader in this line in his country for twenty years, and the department of child study is to play a most important part in the life of the world which will come directly under his supervision. It is designed to supply all the various phases of child study.

NAVY WILL MAKE TRIAL

British Navy Will Try to Produce Workable Dirigible Balloon.

Army Officers Have Spent Half Million Without Any Results.

London, Eng., Oct. 28.—After the army, the navy. The British navy, under the aegis of Col. Capper, whose rank is definite, and "Col. Capper," whose rank is more nebulous, having failed to produce anything like a workable dirigible balloon or an aeroplane, has transferred its powers to the hope that the accredited "handy men" of that service may be more fortunate in achieving a successful issue.

It is rather remarkable that the English war office, with brilliant practical examples of airships and aeroplanes forever before them, should make such a fearful muddle of everything it has attempted in the way of experiment.

The Zeppelin, the Parseval, the Ville de Paris, its dirigibles, are an accomplished fact, and their several peculiarities have been published over and over again in the technical periodicals. Neither is there any secret about the construction of the Blériot, Wright, Latham or Delagrange aeroplanes.

These patterns have been always at the elbow of the British authorities in easy accessibility for reference, yet for some reason or other, they have chosen to ignore them and their childishly foolish attempts at aerial navigation have cost the country close upon $500,000.

A further $100,000 has now been placed at the disposal of the navy, and it is hoped that it will emerge more successfully from the aerial ordeal than the army's experiments.

Two aeroplanes—foreign made, presumably American (Wright) machines—are to be purchased with the idea of learning "how to do it" by direct experience. One is already on the stocks at the great ordnance and engineering works of Vickers Sons & Maxims, at Barrow, where it is being built under the direction of several naval officers.

In the meantime the Aldershot airship sheds and works are being reconstructed, with the idea of having the army one more chance—if the naval experiments prove unsuccessful.

A Monkey Trainer.
Mrs. Hamlyn of St. George street, Whitechapel, is a prominent member of a limited but lucrative profession—that of monkey trainer. She prefers to call it "civilizing" them, as she regards the larger apes as merely little human beings who have lost the power of speech.

"Peter," the chimpanzee who has been appearing in New York at a salary of $1,500 a week, is one of Mrs. Hamlyn's pupils, and she counts sixteen other educated apes who are now earning money in vaudeville as her old pupils.

Discussing her methods with her spiritualist, Mrs. Hamlyn said: "My aim is not to produce a monkey which will perform tricks, but to make the monkey behave exactly like a well-brought-up child."

"To teach a monkey tricks after I have brought it up to behave like a child is a very easy matter. It resembles teaching a human being."

"During the first eight hours I get a complete mastery over the monkey, and show him everything he is to do. The rest is comparatively easy, for, like children, they are anxious to do everything they are told. One of them took to washing the stairs in my absence. Unfortunately he got wet through, and died soon after of pneumonia."

"I take me from three to five months to train a monkey to behave in every respect like a child. I have not yet sold one for less than $500."

An Anti-Religious.
Lady Aberdeen, having been asked by the South Dublin board of guardians to discontinue the anti-religious crusade in Ireland, on the ground that it was creating a scare and becoming harmful to the industrial welfare of the country, has written in reply pointing out that the crusade owed its origin to the religious profession in Ireland, coupled with figures submitted by the registrar general for Ireland. It was not within the power of any individual to stop the campaign, she asserted.

"It is being carried on not only here, but in every enlightened country," she pointed out, "and the public generally are becoming so fully instructed in the matter that they would only avoid those countries where no preventive or curative measures are being taken."

Club for Spiritualists.
An up-to-date spiritualist club for Spiritualists is to be established in the West end shortly.

The organizers of the International Club of Psychical Research, but they have already succeeded in obtaining a membership of more than 1,000.

According to the "Annals of Psychical Research," a quarterly journal, which will be published today, the new club will not aim in any sense at being a "mystery" club, but it will provide all the accessories and conditions requisite for experiment and research.

The journal says: "The organizers and patrons among whom may be counted many distinguished men of science, that the study of the powers latent in man and of the more recondite problems of psychology cannot fail to be accelerated by such social intercourse as a club of this nature will afford, inasmuch as it will be a synthesis of all that Psychical Research, Spiritism, New Thought, Theosophy and Christian Science ultimately intend, and it is fully expected that with the social recognition thus gained, modern psychology in its numerous specialized aspects will obtain the cathedra which it deserves, and which could not be secured to the same extent under any other auspices."

One of the organizers told me yesterday that the internal management of the club would be entirely in the hands of the members.

"The club will be divided into subsections, after the manner of the Lyceum and Sesame clubs," he said. A special room will be set apart for séances, and it is likely that the various sections will meet daily in this room.

"The experiments will be conducted on strictly scientific lines, and every endeavor will be made to keep out impostors. The entrance fee will be two guineas, and the annual subscription will also be two guineas."

"Many of our members belong to the Society for Psychical Research, and our non-resident members will hail from every country in the world. We have three sites in the heart of clubland to choose from, and the choice will depend upon the membership, but we hope to be installed by the end of next month."

Apart from the room where members will hold converse with deceased relatives, the club will be exactly like any other West end club. The president is "a man of acknowledged rank in the scientific world."

BOTH REBUKED BY THE COURT

Count de Castellane and Princess de Sagan Get Warm Scolding.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The court which has had under advisement the case of Count Boni de Castellane against his wife, the present Princess de Sagan, growing out of the difference as to how their two oldest sons should be educated, returned its decision yesterday. The court rebuked both the count and the princess for their disagreement in the matter of schooling their children and ordered the judgment of May 27 last put into immediate effect. This earlier judgment provided that, in the event of a disagreement of the matter between the parents, the boys be sent as resident pupils to the lycée of Janson, where the court said they would be certain to find proper educational attention. The petition of the count, that the defendant be penalized $100 daily for each child so long as she failed to obey the order, was rejected, and the costs of the case were divided between the two parties.

Following the judgment of last May the princess has deferred placing the children in the school as directed, on the grounds that their health was such as to make that course impossible. On last Friday the count instituted an action praying for an enforcement of the court's instructions.

MRS. LOWRY PAYS TAX.
Widow of Street Car Magnate Gives State Large Sum.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Thomas Lowry, widow of the street car and railway magnate, yesterday voluntarily acknowledged a debt to the state of Minnesota of $41,218.75, an inheritance tax of 5 per cent upon property transferred to her by her husband shortly before his death.

She did so contrary to the advice of Judge M. B. Koon of Minneapolis, her attorney, who gave an opinion that the property in question was not subject to such a tax.

In so doing she said she followed the wish of her husband, expressed on his deathbed, that no litigation should ensue because of non-payment of the tax.

Adding $10,000, more or less, that will be paid as inheritance tax on property bequeathed to Mrs. Lowry in her husband's will, the total inheritance tax will be approximately $50,000, the largest such tax, with one exception, ever paid in the state.

In the transfer before Mr. Lowry's death property valued at $1,306,355 was conveyed to Mrs. Lowry, and in accepting it she assumed an indebtedness of $452,000, leaving the net value $854,355. With the property passing through the probate court, worth $1,777,087.24, the total value of the estate is $1,001,422.24.

INVENTOR KILLED.
By Accidental Explosion of Secret Water Proofing Compound.

La Porte, Ind., Oct. 29.—Harry May, an inventor who came recently from

New York, was killed yesterday by the accidental explosion of a secret water proofing compound used in the manufacture of artificial stone. Elmer F. Harding, owner of a cement block works and to whom May had sold the patent on the compound, was severely burned, but will recover.

The explosion took place in the office of Harding's cement plant and the fire that followed partly destroyed the factory. May was recently married in Minneapolis. He came from New York city last winter.

STILL IN BANDAGES.

Arthur Hume Appears in Court to Testify in Assault Case.

Michael Gerkin, charged with assault upon the person of Arthur Hume, was given a hearing yesterday in Municipal court and pleaded guilty. He was bound over to the next term of the circuit court in bonds of $500.

The alleged assault occurred Oct. 16, Hume has been in the hospital since that time and when he took the witness stand yesterday his face was in bandages and plasters, where he had been confined since the attack.

The trouble between Hume and Gerkin is said to have grown out of a dispute over the ownership of a number of "pals." It is claimed, however, that the trouble was a result of a fight between the two men.

Officer Peterson, who arrested Gerkin later on the complaint of Hume, testified on the stand yesterday.

Halloween prank players, who try to waste on show windows and how many supposedly fixed articles they can move to unaccounted places, will be locked up at the Superior police station for the night and arraigned in court the next day if they are caught by the police.

The parks of the amazing city cover fourteen square miles, including some of its choicest ground. It is said that they contain more than 2,500,000 trees and are valued at $1,500,000.

In other words, says Pearson's Magazine, the parks owned by New York contain more land than the big city of Rochester, N. Y., and could be sold for enough to pay the entire national debts of Holland, Switzerland, Sweden and Turkey.

Think of a city that has built 514 schoolhouses at a cost of about $100,000,000, and that has more than 16,000 teachers and superintendents educating 621,000 children, the salaries alone being $1,551,000 a year. The department of education will spend $2,440,730 this year.

And if the giant skyline of New York staggers the imagination, what of the marvelous network of pipes and wires that

ELECTROPODES
A NEW ELECTRIC TREATMENT

Gives Nerves Remarkable Vigor

Electropodes, a Wonderful, Simple Device to Produce Astonishing Nerve Strength.

How Any Man or Woman Can Get and Use Them.

There is no more excuse for any man or woman suffering from nervous exhaustion, run-down condition, weak nerves, lack of ambition or energy. A wonderfully simple device, called Electropodes, is now designed to render the nerves strong and vigorous without having to resort to temporary stimulants, tonics or medicines of any kind. Electropodes are not an experiment; that they produce results which can be quickly felt and even seen in an improved condition of the general system is the emphatic statement of those who have used them.

Electropodes represent a distinct advance in the application of electricity for the cure of diseases. They are reported to have a remarkable effect not only upon the nerves, but also upon the kidneys, stomach, and liver, being an exceptional remedy for kidney troubles, stomach or liver derangements, neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, lumbago, insomnia and weak heart.

Electropodes are metallic insoles so placed in the heels of the shoes as to be unnoticeable to the wearer. By electrically stimulating every fibre, organ, nerve, and blood vessel in the condition of the system, quickly changes for the better.

Electropodes never become uncomfortable, yet you feel a mighty change and increased power creeping upon you.

To prove that these statements are not in the least exaggerated, The Electropode Company, of Lima, Ohio, has your druggist sign a contract that if you are not satisfied with the Electropodes at the end of 30 days, you can have your money right back.

Electropodes are sold at drug stores at $1.00 a pair, under contract to satisfy you. If your druggist does not have Electropodes, write to The Electropode Co., Suite 37, Holland Block, Lima, Ohio, and you will get them by return mail with our contract binding you to completely satisfy you within 30 days, or positively refund your money. Say whether for lady or gentleman.

JAP ARMY NEARLY 200,000.

Reliable Statistics Place That Number as Peace Footing.

Shanghai, Oct. 28.—In calculating the size of a national army it is hardly possible to get beyond approximate figures. Hence a calculation of the strength of the Japanese army just produced must be received on that basis, but without any suspicion that it is far from the truth.

Indeed, the authority responsible for the statistics vouches that the actual numbers are in excess of those given. Taking the figures as they are presented, it would appear that the Japanese actually under arms, or in other words, serving with the colors, in Japan, are:

Infantry	125,969
Cavalry	12,500
Artillery	11,270
Engineers	14,000
Communications	9,240
Heavy artillery	5,600
Mountain artillery	1,600
Communications troops	2,000

Total.....154,500

This is the military strength on a peace footing, being more than double what it was when the Russo-Japanese war began. On a war footing the army is put at 1,214,000, exclusive of 10,000 troops serving in Formosa; 15,000 officers and non-commissioned officers serving with the colors, and a very large number of officers and non-commissioned officers whose names are borne on the reserves.

Helpful Hints on Hair Health

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the comb may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never put anything on your head that is not a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that if it does not produce the results we claim, you may return it for a full refund. This is the famous "Kaiser" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

"Kaiser" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when it has been brought about by disease, and make the hair grow thick, soft and glossy. It does this because it kills the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that "Kaiser" Hair Tonic is the only hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should accept of or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular, they may return it for a full refund. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain "Kaiser" Remedies in Duluth only at our store—The Rexall Store—E. M. Tredway.

WINS FORMER SWEETHEART

Lovers of Youth United After Separation of Fifty Years.

David Knee, Unsuccessful in Love, Gains Fortune in West.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 29.—Fifty years ago, when Cupid tried his hand at uniting David Knee and Miss Alwilda Osborne, he made a botch of the job. He tried it again last week and was successful. David Knee, aged 76 years, a resident of California, and Mrs. Alwilda Knee, 67, of Plattsmouth, Neb., widow of a brother of the bridegroom, are now husband and wife.

Fifty years ago David Knee and family lived near the village of Nottola, Ohio, and across the border in Indiana lived the Osborne family, of which Miss Alwilda was a member, and whom David courted with might and main and was supposed to have won until his younger brother, John, took a hand in the game and commenced paying attention to Miss Osborne. It was difficult for her to choose between the two Knees, but she finally settled upon David.

David would have felt thoroughly happy if the sting of jealousy had not entered his soul, and in the course of a quarrel he accused Miss Osborne of caring more for his brother than she did for him. She denied the imputation and tried to explain. David would not listen. A few days later he packed his belongings and went to California and hired out as a farm hand.

Three years later he was married to a California girl, and when Miss Osborne learned of it she accepted the attention of the young Knee, and after a courtship of respectable length they were married. Twenty years ago they moved to Plattsmouth, Neb., bought a farm, put it under cultivation, and in due time had a fortune of $100,000. Two years ago John Knee died. There were no children and Mrs. Knee was left alone to manage the farm and the financial affairs.

Fortune Won by Him. Out in California David had smiled upon David Knee, and he accumulated property estimated to be worth $200,000. Six years ago his wife died. At that time he had not heard of the removal of his brother to Nebraska, but one day he learned of it by chance from a Nebraska tourist who was doing California. Hungering for further information, he subscribed for a Plattsmouth paper, and each week he read the little sheet with great interest, trying to find an inkling relating to the Knees. One week he found it. It was the notice of the death of John Knee, one of the wealthiest and most prominent men of the community. Soon after this David Knee wrote to the widow of his brother, the Alwilda Osborne, whose hand he had sought fifty years ago.

These letters were followed by many others, and a few months ago David Knee sold his California possessions and (as one of the wealthiest and most prominent men of the community) moved to Plattsmouth, Neb., and in due time had a fortune of $100,000. Two years ago John Knee died. There were no children and Mrs. Knee was left alone to manage the farm and the financial affairs.

KAISER MAKES ROYALTY WAIT

Until an "Inferior" Princess Is Present for the Banquet.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The German emperor has perpetrated a grave breach of court etiquette by inviting to the Princess Hohenberg, the morganatic wife of the successor to the Austro-Hungarian throne, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, to visit Berlin in company with her husband next month.

But the emperor, who has created general satisfaction in this country and has obviously increased the popularity of the Kaiser among his subjects. The Kaiser's revolt against the strict rules of court etiquette began on the occasion of his last visit to Vienna, when all the excited and distinguished guests invited to a state banquet in the imperial palace were assembled preparatory to going to table.

Glancing around that assembly of gorgeously uniformed archdukes and princesses, officers and statesmen, and dazzling company of jeweled royal ladies, the Kaiser missed the graceful figure of Archduke Franz Ferdinand's wife, the Princess Hohenberg. Walking briskly up to her, the Kaiser asked, "Where is the wife?"

The archduke was somewhat embarrassed by the question, and replied: "Surely thou knowest that my wife is regarded here as a lady of inferior rank." Then, enquired the Kaiser's rejection of court etiquette. He exclaimed impulsively: "But no, thy wife must be here."

In accordance with the Emperor William's express desire, and after his host, Emperor Francis Joseph, had given his assent, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand left the royal palace and drove to his own residence to get his wife. The whole company waited until he returned, bringing his wife with him.

BALK AT WINTER IN FINLAND.

Russian Officers View Dim-may Prospect of Sojourn.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—The situation in Finland has spread dismay in St. Petersburg society, owing to the prospect of the officers of the regiments of the guard being called upon to pass the winter in Finland instead of participating in the gayeties attending the return of the court to this city. There have been no orders issued for the dispatch of troops to Finland beyond those already on the way to the grand duchy, according to an officer of the staff, but word has been passed to the officers of seven elite regiments to hold themselves in readiness for a winter campaign.

It is rumored that some of the regiments may leave here next week and will be distributed by detachments in the various towns. A prominent Finnish official said today that upon resistance to Russia's demand for an annual military contribution by Finland was entirely out of the question. He believed that there would simply be a passive refusal to appropriate money for the national defense, and that there would be little booty made in the collection of the amount until the work was placed in the hands of Russians. The official considered the annexation of the eastern portion of Viborg province settled, and he expressed the opinion that this would lead to the general emigration of Finnish residents in the new frontier.

BIG SPARKLER IS RECOVERED

By Clever Detective Work in Detroit—Found in Laundry.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 29.—If a certain Italian employed at a Detroit laundry hadn't shucked a Gratiot avenue jeweler by pushing a $600 diamond under his nose last Friday, George B. Strader, of Lexington, Mass., still would be mourning the loss of the magnificent gem.

Strader placed the diamond stud, attached to his neck, in the pillow case in his room at a local hotel three days ago. When he reached for it the next day it was gone. Friday an Italian walked into the jeweler's store, crossed the massive sparkler over the counter and asked to have a pin attached to it. The jeweler drew his breath. "Where did you get it?" he fairly shouted. The Italian, believing that something wasn't quite right, drew the stone back over the case and disappeared. The jeweler remembered reading about the missing diamond. He notified the police, and Detectives Baker

Classy Old English

THOSE who appreciate the artistic in furniture will find a feast for their eyes in the showing we make of Old English Period styles.

The Elizabethan table illustrated above gives a good idea of the exquisite beauty of these pieces. It is but one of a number of styles revived by Grand Rapids art furniture makers, and of which we have probably one of the very finest displays in the Northwest.

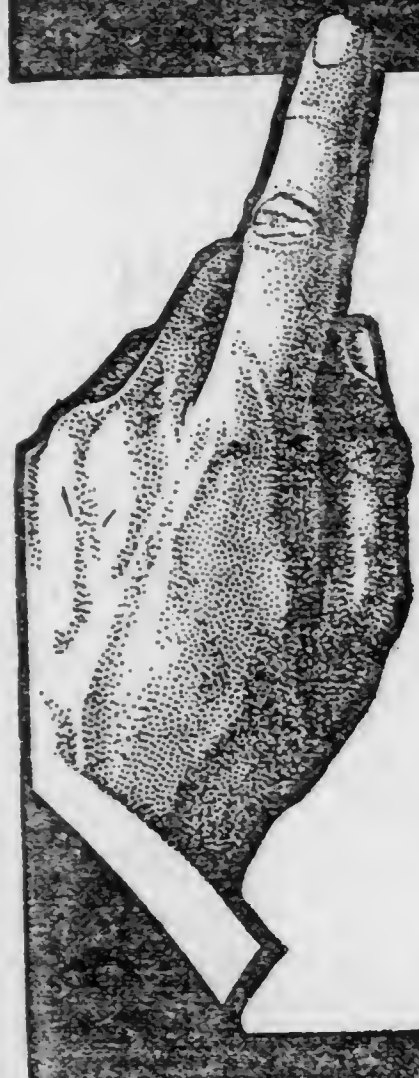

To match the table, we have a massive buffet, china cabinet, serving table and chairs, making a dining room set fit for a king.

For the library, we have elegant Old English Bookcases, Tables and Chairs—not only a single set, but several—for you to study and admire. Drop in and view the exhibit.

CHINESE PIRATE SLAIN WHILE FIGHTING TROOPS.

Peking, Oct. 28.—With a slaying of the notorious pirate Jikiri and his band, piracy in the Sulu sea, it is hoped, is crushed out forever. Jikiri, who had sworn the terrible oath to kill 100 people before he "passed in his checks," was found with seven of his men and his wife on the island of Fatin, having taken possession of a fortified cave in the crater of an extinct volcano.

A gunboat and troops were sent to capture them. After ineffectually shelling the cave for two days and nights, the troops prepared to rush the pirates. But the latter took the initiative and charged the troops. The pirates were killed, and Jikiri himself, who paid the penalty by having the top of his head blown off with a load of buckshot. Eventually all the outlaws were killed, but the troops lost three dead, and had nineteen wounded. If the full list of Jikiri's victims were known, it is believed that his awful oath would have been proved verified.

ERA OF LOW MORTALITY

Claims That It Has Been Reached By the Civilized World.

Death Rate in 1908 Lowest in History of United States.

Washington, Oct. 29.—"The civilized world has indeed arrived at an era of low mortality."

This conclusion is stated in Census Bureau bulletin, 104, on mortality statistics for 1908, prepared by Dr. George L. Wilbur, chief statistician for vital statistics under Director Durand, who has transmitted it to Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor.

The death rate of the registration states in 1908 was 15.3 per 1,000 of population, which was slightly lower than that for the entire registration area, 16.4 per 1,000, and it is the lowest on record. Dr. Wilbur states it is probably the lowest death rate that has ever occurred in the United States.

The death rate of the rural portions of these states was still lower, being only 14 per 1,000, while that of the urban population was 16.5 per 1,000; the latter including all cities having a population of 2,000 or more inhabitants in 1900, and being, as usual, somewhat greater than the rural rate. Such rates would have seemed quite out of the question a few years ago. The death rate of England and Wales for 1908 was only 14.7 per 1,000 of population, and of London for the same year, 15.8 per 1,000. For each year since 1853, the death rate of England and Wales has been less than 16 per 1,000, with the exception of the year 1904 for which year it was 16.2 per 1,000, while no rate as low has been recorded for any previous years of registration.

The registration area embraces the registration states and separate registration cities in non-registration states accepted by the census bureau as having approximately complete registrations of deaths based upon the requirements of compulsory burial permits. For the year 1908, the registration area included Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin.

The district of Columbia and seventy-four registration cities in non-registration states, together with the registration states mentioned, made up the aggregate registration area for 1908, whose total estimated population was 67,034, or only 4.50 less than the 1908 returns, although the registration area for 1908 was increased by Washington and Wisconsin. The year 1908 was one of remarkably low mortality throughout the United States, and the figures for 1908 show a somewhat increased percentage of deaths of infants under 1 year for 1908, but the ratios for each of the individuals, from 1 to 4, are identical for 1907 and 1908. A close agreement appears in the subsequent five-year periods, although there was a slightly more favorable showing for 1908 for the age periods from 15 to 49 years.

Nearly one-fifth of the deaths that occurred were those of infants under one year of age and over one-fourth of children less than 5 years of age. For both 1907 and 1908, 92.3 per cent of all deaths were those of white persons, which shows the unequal division of the registration area in this respect. Maryland is the only registration state with a considerable proportion (22.6 per cent) of colored population.

Nearly one-fourth of all deaths registered were those of persons born outside of the United States. The states having the largest proportion of native-born Americans of native stock, are, Dr. Wilbur states, the ones in which it is the most difficult to secure the passage of effective registration laws. Therefore, the actual mortality of Americans of native parentage is not fully represented in the registration area, although over two-thirds of the deaths registered were of native-born persons and one-third were of native-born with native parents.

More Deaths in January. It appears that the maximum mortality in 1908 was January, with 67,763 deaths, and that of minimum mortality was June, with 47,701 deaths.

The death rates of the individual registration states vary for the year 1908, from 18.4 for California, to 10.1 for South Dakota. Dr. Wilbur points out that the total variation is less than that among the great towns of England, and that the range of mortality is not excessive.

With the exception of South Dakota, all the registration states for which data are presented for more than a single year, show lower rates for 1908 than 1907, and in several instances the rates for 1908 were the lowest on record, at least since fairly accurate registration has been in effect. For Massachusetts a comparison of the rates given in the state reports since 1881 shows that, with the single exception of the rate (16.3) in 1904, the rate (16.5) in 1908 is the lowest.

Then follow comparisons of the death rates of the cities of the United States of the thirty-five cities considered, a decreased death rate was shown in 1908 in all but five instances. The remainder of the bulletin is devoted to the consideration of causes of death, of occupations, and of mortality by city and state, and contains the official English translation of the revised list of causes of death, arranged for use in mortality tables by international agreement at the second decennial revision in Paris last July.

NOT LEONARDO DA VINCI'S WORK

Curator of Berlin Museum Badly Fooled By Supposed Antique.

London, Oct. 29.—It was announced a fortnight ago that Dr. Bode, curator of the Kaiser Friedrich museum at Berlin had visited London and bought for many thousands of pounds a life-size bust of a woman, which he declared to be of fifteenth century workmanship and almost certainly the production of Leonardo da Vinci himself.

The Times described the bust as a work of great beauty, which undoubtedly dated from about the year 1500. The Times also had severe things to say about English blindness to real artistic treasures. Today the history of this wonderful work of art was told by Charles Cooksey, the auctioneer of Southampton. It is the work of Richard Cockle Lucas, who was a sculptor of some prominence in London in 1846. Lucas was a protege of Lord Palmerston and many of his carvings in ivory are now in the Kensington museum. An art dealer named Buchanan one day brought Lucas a reputed picture by Da Vinci, representing a half-length portrait of a woman scantily draped, holding in her right hand sprays of flowers, and in her left loosely holding some drapery. Buchanan asked Lucas if he would reproduce the subject as a wax bust. Lucas accepted the commission.

The sculptor's son, Albert Durer Lucas, also reproduced the picture in oils. The latter, who is 81 years old, is still painting at Southampton. Lucas finished the bust, but the dealer was unable to pay for it, and the work was left on the artist's hands. Years later he built a peculiar habitation near Southampton and took there his bust of Mme. Joconde and there it remained until the artist's death in 1883.

Then the place was sold, including the bust, which was set on a pedestal in the garden, to a Mr. Simpson. On the latter's death a few years ago his bust was sold at auction. The Southampton Cooksey had a chance to buy it for less than a sovereign, but would not. The forerunner of the bust gone, and it is also much dilapidated by exposure to the weather.

GIRL OF 17 RUNS TRACTION ENGINE

Miss Harriet Spangler Draws Full Pay as Regular Engineer.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—Picture a girl of 17 summers, a girl with serious deep blue eyes that match a firm, resolute mouth, a girl dressed in blue canvas, oil stained, with a battered straw hat crowning a wealth of wavy brown hair, and you will have a fairly accurate picture of Miss Harriet Spangler of Linton, Ind., as she appears when she is demonstrating on the home farm that she can successfully handle a 17-horse power traction engine for a thrashing outfit or a sawmill. Probably she is the only girl of her age in the world who can make such a demonstration and draw $4.50 a day in the bargain.

Miss Spangler wanted to see the Alaska-Yukon fair in Seattle. Her parents offered to defray the expenses of the trip, but the girl declared that she would not leave home unless she could earn the money for her trip herself. She applied to her brother for a job. As cook for the thrashing crew? Not a bit of it. As engineer of the big traction engine. That's what.

That's what. That's how she happens to be in Seattle now. There is nothing to suggest the hard-working engineer about her now, however. She's just a pretty, bright, active little lady, enjoying every minute of her outing.

"I never studied mechanics," she says, "but I like engines. I just seem to understand them. I come by it naturally, I guess. My father is a machinist and I have a brother who has been running an engine since he was 10 years old. The first time I handled an engine was two years ago, when the engineer in my brother's sawmill was injured. I told my brother I could run the engine if somebody would fire. He helped me a little, but I didn't have much trouble. Maybe that was why when I asked to be his engineer during the last thrashing, he said he would try me. It was hard work, but I liked it. The old traction and I got along real well together. "Now I want to go to Bremerton and if they'll let me I want to see the big engines on the warships. I suppose they are great big grand things, but I know I shall never find any engine quite so companionable as the one on the farm at home."

"Waking up" to the importance of the ads. is often the beginning of a new era in one's life.

SKUNK SKIN COAT

Will Be Presented to Mrs. Taft By Bay State Trapper.

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 28.—As a tribute to the mistress of the White House as well as to his own ability as a devotee of Nimrod, a Bay State trapper will soon present to Mrs. Taft what is considered the most unusual coat ever worn by any American woman. The coat is made entirely of skunk skins, and to James A. Goff, a trapper of East Norton, belongs the credit of having originated the idea, as well as collecting the skins.

S.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE OF CATARRH

S.S.S. cures Catarrh by removing the cause from the blood. It so thoroughly purifies the circulation that there is nothing left to inflame and irritate the mucous linings of the body, which is the most prominent and dangerous effect of Catarrh. As long as the mucous membranes and tissues are kept in a state of inflammation and irritation by an impure and infected condition of the circulation, Catarrh will remain. Its disagreeable symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, mucous dropping back into the throat, headaches, watery eyes, difficult breathing, and even stomach disorders and weakened health, cannot be permanently relieved until the blood is purified. Local applications alone can have no real curative value, because such treatment does not reach the blood. Sprays, inhalations, lotions, etc., are valuable only for their cleansing and antiseptic effect, but if depended on alone Catarrh sufferers will find a cure impossible. Nothing equals S.S.S. for curing Catarrh. It goes down into the circulation, gets from the root of the trouble, and removes every particle of catarrhal matter from the blood and enriches this vital fluid so that instead of irritating the different mucous portions of the body, it nourishes them with rich, health-giving properties. Then the symptoms begin to pass away, and Catarrh is permanently cured. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

ITCHED A YEAR: CURED IN A WEEK

Hands Cracked Open, Bled, Burned and Ached—Could Not Sleep nor Even Dress Himself—Professional Treatment Failed to Help Him.

MAN OF 70 OWES SKIN COMFORT TO CUTICURA

"I am a man seventy years old. My hands were very sore and cracked open on the inside for over a year with large sores. They would crack open and bleed, burn, and ache so that I could not sleep and could do but little work. They were so bad that I could not dress myself in the morning. They would bleed and the blood dropped on the floor. I called on two doctors, but they did me no good. I could get nothing to do me any good till I got the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. About a year ago my daughter got a cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and in one week from the time I began to use them my hands were all healed up and they have not been a mile sore since. I would not be without the Cuticura Remedies.

They also cured a bad sore on the hand of one of my neighbor's children, and they took very little of the Cuticura Remedies. John W. Hasty, Sr., Effingham, N. H., Mar. 5 and Apr. 11, '09."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BENA BOOZE POURED OUT

Special Agent Larsen Makes Quick Disposition of Several Gallons.

He Found a Saloon Keeper Who Was Giving Liquor to Indians.

Cass Lake, Minn., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several gallons of liquor were found in the village of Bena yesterday when Special Agent O. E. Larsen visited that village and confiscating some of the stuff, promptly dumped it into the street. He also arrested a man suspected of "bootlegging."

The special agent went to Bena to observe how the saloon keepers were observing the law against giving liquor to Indians. Soon after arriving he saw an Indian coming from the Quinn saloon with a bottle of whisky. Taking the cue the officer dashed into the place and saw not only white men but Indians drinking. The bartender was filling all orders without hesitation but stopped as soon as he learned the identity of the latest arrival.

Liquor Dumped Out.
Mr. Larsen without any ceremony grabbed hold of a number of bottles of liquor and proceeded to dump the contents, several gallons, into the street. It was reported the proprietor had declared no one would destroy his goods, but he seemed to have changed his mind, for he offered no objection. He will probably be arrested.

Soon after leaving the Quinn place Mr. Larsen came upon another mysterious character whom he later found to be "bootlegging." The man gave his name as James Richards. The officer found a number of bottles in a suit case he was carrying. Richards was arrested and taken to Walker, where he will appear before United States Commissioner De Lury.

LUCKY ONE NOT ABLE TO READ

Bismarck Colored Man, Who Got Banner Land, Makes Mark.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Calvin Bowdy, the colored man about whom the entire town is talking, and whose name has been the lucky man in the big land draw, recently made in Bismarck, is a recent arrival in Bismarck having come here from St. Louis about four weeks ago.

Bowdy has been in the employ of C. W. Wolbert since his arrival here, and has the reputation of being an honest man. He surely has been all of these things since he has been in Bismarck. He came here from St. Louis where he was in the employ of Ely & White, a jobbing firm, in the capacity of porter.

He was delighted with his good fortune, and says that he will go down and settle on his claim at the earliest opportunity. When asked if he would make $10,000 for his rights, he said: "No, man, that claim is not to be sold at any price."

Bowdy is 25 years of age, but has never had the advantages of any schooling, and is unable to either read or write. He signed his application by proxy, simply making a mark.

Bowdy will not throw up his present job, but will work on it until it is time for him to file on the claim. He says the reservation is as good as he can get the time, and has no idea as yet where he will locate.

There were rumors about town on Tuesday that there had been offers of $10,000 each made for the first and second choices, but that is simply a rumor.

CHEADLE IN THE RUNNING

(Continued from page 1.) find another strong man. With Mr. Chedle in the race the way is apparently clear to unite the Democrats of the city. Mr. Chedle also told the committee that he would not go into the race as a political proposition. Another condition was that he be allowed to draw his own platform. This

Satisfactory to the committee, as they feel that the mayor is the one who is called upon to enforce his pledges, and that he is the proper man to tell the people for what he stands.

When asked to state what would probably be the leading plank of the platform, Mr. Chedle asked to be excused from any statement at this time. He said that it would not be proper for him to speak of those matters until the party or representatives of the party had had an opportunity to know whether they would endorse him after seeing the platform.

The office of mayor is the highest gift which it is within the power of the people of Duluth to bestow upon a man. It can only reflect honor upon that man if he adheres to the principles upon which he is elected. The position is one of highest responsibility, and one from which a man can retire with credit if he gives a clean, straight-forward administration.

Further than to express appreciation of the honor that had been bestowed upon him by the Democrats in asking him to be their candidate at the coming election, Mr. Chedle had nothing else to say.

Mr. Chedle's Record.

With eleven years as city clerk Mr. Chedle is highly fitted for the office. He has been in touch with municipal affairs for years, and is thoroughly familiar with all branches of city government. He has been in touch with the political situation closely, but is a politician only so far as it behooves a good citizen. He feels that the people of the city ought to take an interest in their municipal affairs and for years has kept close track of all developments in which the welfare of Duluth has been concerned.

The committee waited upon Mr. Chedle this morning after having called upon Frank Craswell yesterday afternoon. Mr. Craswell thanked them for the attention which they had bestowed upon him, but positively declined to become a candidate for mayor on the Democratic ticket. He said that his business would not permit it.

Numerous Democrats and Republicans in the city expressed great satisfaction when they learned of the answer that Mr. Chedle had given the committee today. Men of both parties declared that he will make an ideal man for the place. All believed that he will make a phenomenal showing when the votes are counted.

Nashauk, Minn., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several Great Northern officials took the first train over the new Nashauk-Grand Rapids extension. Their inspection expressed gratification over the progress made. It is their belief that the new line will be ready for regular traffic early in November, instead of about a month later as announced earlier.

HAS NO FOOD FOR FIFTY-TWO DAYS

Ohio Man Fasts to Gain Health and Is Successful.

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 23.—William H. Laire of Cleveland, Ohio, came up into this country two or three months ago with indigestion, that was giving him fits and a grouch that was giving him to everybody with whom he had anything to do. William H. Laire now is prepared to go back to Cleveland in the sweetest of moods. His face is wreathed in smiles and he is suffering no more stomach trouble than a rabbit. It was a simple method Laire took to cure himself of the ills of the gastric economy, and it wasn't at all costly. He didn't have any doctor bills to pay and his cafe checks were almost as if not. All Laire did was just quit eating.

Now, this may seem to the uninitiated rather trying, considering that eating is one of the things that most of us live for. But it isn't hard when you get used to it, if Laire's case is a criterion.

He says it was pretty tough the first eight days, but after that it was peaches and cream (only it wasn't). Laire had some flesh he didn't need when he began to go. He fasted several better, but when he got through it was gone. He fasted fifty-one and a half days, and in all that time nothing but filtered water entered through his anatomy. By this time he weighed forty pounds less.

After his stomach had got back to its normal condition, Laire concluded that in deference to the old-fashioned custom in vogue so many centuries ago, he might as well commence to take on a little food again. Not that it was absolutely necessary, but you know, it's recognized as the proper thing to do.

So he began. He went at it by degrees. The first day he fell off the foodless cart his tumble was not distressing. He drank only a teaspoonful of milk.

The next meal consisted of two teaspoonfuls of milk. His third was three teaspoonfuls of milk. After that the milk route grew until finally he essayed solids. Now he can eat a $1.50 steak and it doesn't faze him.

AMERICANS SLANDERED.

Success in English Society Wins Hatred From Erstwhile Leaders.

London, Oct. 29.—The battle royal which, at present, is progressing between certain erstwhile leaders of English society and the enterprising American women whose wealth and attractive personalities have obtained for them the entrée to the smartest set, promises to become fiercer than ever.

So jealous are the English women of the fair Americans' social success that they are resorting to tactics which are hardly creditable in their attempts to bring their rivals into disfavor. They are circulating statements of a highly slanderous nature concerning some of England's guests from the other side of the Atlantic.

It would not be very surprising if this campaign of calumny is eventually brought to the notice of the courts.

Scheme of Sulphur Trust Thwarted By Italy's Sudden Change.

Royal Decree for Sale of Sicilian Mines' Production Withheld.

Rome, Oct. 29.—What is believed to be a determined effort upon the part of the American sulphur trust to corner the world's supply of that mineral, so important in the manufacture of paper and paper pulp, has been temporarily thwarted by the sudden and unexpected backdown of the Italian government from the position it had recently taken in attempting to force the sale of the Sicilian mines' production to the Union Sulphur company of New York, a strong Standard Oil interest.

The ministry of industry, commerce and labor had prepared a royal decree annulling the law which governs the output and its commercial manipulation, so as to conclude the sale. But, as a result of it, it is understood of advisers from the United States, the decree has been withheld from presentation to King Victor Emmanuel for signature.

The ministry of industry, commerce and labor had prepared a royal decree annulling the law which governs the output and its commercial manipulation, so as to conclude the sale. But, as a result of it, it is understood of advisers from the United States, the decree has been withheld from presentation to King Victor Emmanuel for signature.

A powerful political clique has been hard at work for a considerable length of time seeking to compel the disposition of the Sicilian mines' production to the Union Sulphur company of New York, which is president of the entire output of the mines of Sicily for the next ten years, as well as a vast stock of the mineral already mined and in the custody of the Bank of Sicily and the Cassa Vittorio Emanuele III, of Catania.

By a vote of 180 to 2, the sulphur mines and producers, forming the Sicilian Sulphur Consortium—a syndicate founded and conducted by the immediate supervision of the government and regulated by the chamber of deputies—lately rejected the proposal of the American trust to take over the stock at a price approximately $80,000,000.

The members of the consortium, becoming suspicious when they learned the identity of the would-be buyer, have sought by every possible means to prevent the surrender of their product to the American trust. But the last word in the matter is with the government, which is expected that strong political diplomatic and other pressure brought to bear upon the ministry, would result in the royal decree.

In this event parliamentary action at this session would undoubtedly have taken the form of a vote of censure, by which a ministerial crisis would have ensued and the cabinet official would have forfeited his position. By that time, however, the damage would have been done and the Sicilian mines' production for some time to come, at least, in the hands of the Standard Oil subsidiary.

The output of the Sicilian mines for the ensuing ten years is estimated at 1,000,000 tons, which is just about sufficient for the average requirements of the world.

The quantity now in store aggregates half a million tons. Sixteen dollars per ton is the price of the mineral, which is sold by the consortium, originally, but by constituents of the consortium the price was raised to 20 cents per ton, a total of $1,000,000.

At an early stage in the negotiations, the consortium, which is controlled by the American Sulphur company, adopted an unusual precedent.

By a direct appeal to the king, the consortium, which is controlled by the American Sulphur company, adopted an unusual precedent.

CHIN---CHIN

What is it? Where is it?

Chin is the new town on the main line of the C. P. R. in the center of 200,000 acres of the famous "Sunny Southern Alberta" Farm Lands. The only market within 13 to 18 miles for that hustling class of Canadian American Farmers all of whom are independent and many of whom are wealthy.

We are more largely responsible for the rapid development of this famous wheat country than any one else, having sold over 300,000 acres, and we are now establishing this new town of Chin—a market for our customers. They need it. They ask for it and will help to build it.

No town was ever platted with such a large and prosperous agricultural backing.

Business and Residence lots in Chin are guaranteed by us to increase 50% in value within four months and we predict 200% in two years.

Warner was started by us four years ago when the country around was not half as thoroughly developed and its real estate values have increased three or four times.

Chin real estate is a good, sound, profitable investment and its business openings and possibilities are many and large. Residence lots range from $25 to $200; Business lots from $100 to $500.

Chin is not to be simply a good business town. We have planned to make it a comfortable place in which to live by donating sites for a School, Church, Parsonage, City Market and we are going to put in a city well. There are openings for many lines of business.

Back of Chin.

Is a country where the average yield per acre, of wheat, oats and barley cannot be equaled by any state in the Union—spring wheat running from twenty to fifty bushels per acre, winter wheat from twenty to sixty-five bushels, oats from sixty-five to one hundred and thirty-five bushels, and barley from thirty to sixty bushels. The cost per acre to raise an average crop of wheat is $8.00. Take an average yield and the market price, and figure out what the net returns are to the man owning a section of land. This indicates the resources back the town of Chin.

Remember the positive 50% increase in four months and write at once for full descriptive literature and plat.

LETHBRIDGE, ALBERTA

A Fifty Per Cent Increase Assured

Four months from the date of the first payment registered, the prices of lots throughout the town of Chin will be advanced one half regardless of any condition that may exist at that time. This fact assures every purchaser a profit of at least fifty per cent as he can at once re-list his lots for sale by our company.

There is no chance to lose and absolutely 50 per cent to gain and possibly considerably more.

Herman Frasch, the American sulphur trust's executive, is actively engaged in sulphur mining operations in Sicily. He is the inventor and patentee of the hydrostatic process of mining in vogue at the Louisiana deposits, which consists of a steam treatment that liquefies the product, permitting it to be drawn by suction.

It is commonly believed among the sulphur operators of Sicily that the hold and during plan upon which Mr. Frasch has embarked, in his attempt to merge the sulphur producing interests of the world, was first conceived by him when he was employed in the Sicilian mines.

LARGEST SCHOONERS.

Bath, Me., Claims Distinction of Having Built Them.

Bath, Me., Oct. 29.—Of late years general popularity in the building of merchant vessels has dwindled in size from the great leviathans to four and five-masted schooners, with odds in favor of the four masted instead of the flyers, and not more than one six-master is constructed.

This city has had the distinction of building two of the largest six-masted schooners in the world, and in fact the largest wooden vessels afloat. All records are to be exceeded, however, by the construction of another schooner which will put the records of the other two giants in the shade.

Nine years ago the Eleanor A. Percy was built and launched by Messrs. Percy & Small. She was considered a wonder, for she was a six-master with a total gross tonnage of 3,401.96.

The only vessel to come anywhere near her in size was the George W. Wells, built in Camden at about the same time and completed at the time of her launching to be a marvel.

The Percy maintained her reputation as a sizable queen of the seas until a year ago, when Percy & Small built and launched the big giant Edward B. Winslow for the J. S. Winslow Company of Portland, and then the reputation of the Percy faded, for the Winslow exceeded her by twenty-three gross tons.

Now Percy & Small have decided to build a new six-master which they will own and manage themselves. She is now under process of construction and is all in frame, while the diagonal steel strapping for strengthening purposes is being put on. While there are no official figures to be given upon her as yet, for she has not been measured by the customs officials, she will be about 325 feet long and will be about 3,500 tons gross.

Lady's Pictorial: In Paris hostesses are taking drastic measures to bring about the keeping of early hours, and though it is to be hoped we may not have to adopt the desperate methods to which some well-known society leaders are resorting in France, yet it is devoutly to be wished that it would be made clear to guests during the London season that when a hostess asks them to come between certain hours, the "closing time" mentioned should be strictly observed.

Cost Has Increased.

Figures advanced by the Sicilian Consortium to show the correctness of its assertion, indicate that in 1905, when the Union Sulphur company, which is controlled by the American Sulphur Mining company, a $20,000,000 concern, the product was obtained at an average cost of $17 per ton, and in 1908 this figure had increased to $18 per ton, and has since increased in proportion.

The fixed cost of mining sulphur in Eastern and Southeastern Sicily is at the rate of $12 per ton, while the additional expenditure of $3 per ton delivers the product in New York, where no duty is assessed, and where a prevailing price of $22.50 per ton is realized.

Another pertinent query advanced by the Consortium agent is just why the American company, if it feared competition from the Sicilian output, did not make the necessary representations before the committee of ways and means of congress during the recent tariff agitation, and demand the benefit of a highly protective duty upon the importation of sulphur, to which it might be considered to be legitimately entitled.

No move of this sort was made by the Union interests, however, and during the tariff war their efforts were concentrated upon the campaign to obtain control of the Sicilian product. Mr. Frasch and other of the company's heads having been in Italy for a good part of the time of late.

The question now asked is whether the Union Sulphur company seeks to corner the world's supply, in order to advance the price of the material, which is much in demand among the paper and pulp manufacturing interests of the United States and Canada and Europe, or whether a prospective early exhaustion of the Louisiana supply is forcing the trust to obtain a new source.

Challenges Avoided. Thus far challenges to the company by Italian interests that it permit to be made to be made by its Louisiana holdings, it is understood, have not been taken up, and, in fact, have been tactically avoided.

The Consortium agents in America have developed the fact that the Union Sulphur company, early in its conduct of the American mines, succeeded in having a tax imposed by that state upon the profits of operation diverted to supply only upon the actual output, and to further withhold from the public eye the condition of its fiscal affairs, the company has held its stock in treasury, thereby keeping its

Woman's True Friend

Experimenting with new and untried medicines is foolish, and often dangerous. It would take a medicine more than forty years, to prove itself so universally good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During all that time it has been woman's favorite medicine—a restorative tonic, uplifting and invigorating the nervous and discouraged and giving them the final touch of perfect health.

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines for it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs—is not anything like advertised, secret, or patent medicines—does not claim to be able to do impossible things.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments, and adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.

You can't afford to allow yourself to be over-persuaded into accepting any secret nostrum as a substitute for this honest square-deal non-secret medicine. Don't do it. No honest druggist will attempt to cheat you in this way. He who does should be rebuked and avoided. Doctors prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for their worst cases because they know what it contains and know its ingredients to be of the very best.

It's well now and then to gently cleanse out bowel germs that breed weakness, cause foul breath, loss of appetite, dizziness and headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep bowels sweet and clean. Recommended by druggists because of their purity, goodness, and active gentleness.

WILD TIMES IN ABERDEEN.

Grafters Made Away With Money From the Big City.

James Barker of Milwaukee, who is now at the Lenox hotel attended the land opening at Aberdeen and while trying to locate some land had his bank roll and his gold watch located. The thieves did more than locate these personal effects, for they made away with both.

Mr. Barker says there were wild times in Aberdeen. There were grafters from all over and it was mostly the big city fellows who thought they were wise that were touched.

Mr. Barker slept in a room with four other fellows who looked very much like farm hands. Their hands proved slippery, however, and when he awoke in the morning he had to borrow money to telegraph home for more.

Drunk men were dragged out behind tents and robbed. The police seemed unable to cope with the situation and many suffered losses.

BATTLE OF MICROBES.

Two Armies, Many Millions Strong, Have Fierce Struggle.

London, Oct. 29.—A battle in a bottle between two armies of microbes, many millions strong, was witnessed at the recent medical exposition in Westminster. The spectacle consisted of the foaming up on some milk in a large glass bottle, which finally exploded, scattering the combatants weltering in a creamy foam on the floor of the hall.

The original occupants of the bottle were a few million typhoid bacilli, which flourished and multiplied exceedingly in the milk. To their experiment, an invading army of 10,000,000 Massoi bacilli, the microbes of lactic acid, and sworn enemies of the typhoid germ, was sent against the typhoid colony and instantly war raged between them.

The hungry Massois devoured their enemies with voracity. When a Massoi became gorged he burst into a million pieces, each of which immediately became a new microbe and fell upon the enemy forthwith.

The fierce warfare and rapid generation so convulsed the little world inside the bottle that the milk foamed up and burst its glass casing.

These ferocious Massoi microbes are really the friends of man, and Prof. Metchnikoff believes that they are a real elixir of life. By rendering the internal organs antiseptic, they prolong a man's life to an extraordinary extent.

In Bulgaria, where the inhabitants drink quantities of sour milk containing this bacillus, the number of centenarians is remarkable.

detail and will be sufficiently large and convenient to care for the commercial needs of this city for years to come. The completion of the Thief River Falls-Duluth branch of the Soo and the consequent construction of a large and modern depot by this line compel more commodious and more ample hotel facilities than this city now boasts.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Charging that her husband, A. Cho Yo, a former instructor in the University of Tokyo, had crippled her by applying Jitu Jitsu methods of cruelty, Mrs. Grete A. Cho Yo, an American girl, wife of the Oriental, was granted a decree of divorce here yesterday.

The young woman told on the witness stand how she had lived with Cho Yo for two years after their marriage in 1904 and was compelled by injuries inflicted to leave him and practically to abandon musical studies.

The exercises will begin promptly at 3 o'clock, when the speech on behalf of the courthouse commission, turning the new building over to the county, will be made.

Judge W. A. Cant will accept the building on behalf of the county. Congressman Clarence B. Miller will make the speech of acceptance on behalf of the public, and C. S. Mitchell will also speak. No attempt has been made by the courthouse commissioners to make the ceremony elaborate, and the exercises will probably not consume more than an hour. At the conclusion the building will be opened for the inspection of the public. The exercises tomorrow will be public, and it is expected that a large crowd will be present. Seats will be provided in the corridor for over 200, and the remainder will have to stand. The Third Regiment band will be present. Sunday the building will be open all day for the inspection of the public, and guides will be on hand to show the visitors the building from basement to garret. The opportunity will be the only one for people to visit the building before it is occupied, when it can be inspected with perfect freedom. On the people leaving the building tomorrow they will be presented with half-tone pictures of the new building, as souvenirs of the opening.

STATE'S CASE IS CLOSED

Matel Trial Will Be Concluded Early Next Week.

Defense Holds to Theory That Mattis Was Killed in Brawl.

The defense began putting in its testimony this afternoon in the trial of Victor Matel in district court for murder in the first degree in the killing of Adolph Mattis. The defense's case is short and the jury will probably be charged Monday afternoon or early Tuesday. In any event, the case will be concluded in the old court and the verdict will be the last to be returned there.

Paul Bartosz, one of the eye-witnesses to the killing of Mattis, was the first principal witness for the state. He again told the story of the killing of Adolph Mattis. The defense's case is short and the jury will probably be charged Monday afternoon or early Tuesday. In any event, the case will be concluded in the old court and the verdict will be the last to be returned there.

On the stand yesterday afternoon William Backowski, at whose home at 115 Garland avenue the wedding celebration which ended in the death of Adolph Mattis was being held, testified to an encounter between Victor and Adolph Mattis early in the evening. The Matel boys were enraged over something Backowski said, and cursed Matel in three different languages, Polish, Russian and English. Adolph Mattis, he said, tried to strike Adolph Matel, and Matel held up his hands before him and cried that Matel had a knife and was trying to kill him. Matel was finally led away, he said, and Victor remained still cursing Mattis. William Derosz also told of hearing threats against Mattis. He said Victor Matel told him that Adolph Mattis "would get a bullet in his head."

RAILROAD NEWS

WOULD TIE UP GRAIN MOVEMENT

Strike at Buffalo Elevators Might Have Serious Effect.

Duluth rail and traffic men say that if there is a strike in the Buffalo elevators, grain shipments from the head of the lakes to Buffalo, the great clearing point for wheat, will be seriously interfered with. Right at the present time, Duluth railway men say, there are not sufficient cars in the East to handle the wheat. If the movement of wheat on the Great Lakes is impeded, they say, the situation will be greatly complicated.

Right at the present time there is not an idle car in the East, according to the statement made today by a Duluth traffic man. He points out that any tie-up in the handling of grain at the head of the lakes will necessarily hold up grain consigned from here to Eastern points. There are sufficient cars to handle the local business of the Duluth railroads, but cars are being sent from going to foreign lines, because of the heavy demand for cars here, and if the lake vessels should be delayed in Buffalo, at railroads would not be able to come to the assistance of the Eastern lines.

If the thousands of cars place, Duluth railroad men look forward to a very serious congestion in the grain movement.

It is understood that the change would necessitate a shift of several officials in the employ of the Northern Pacific at Duluth.

LAST CASE IN OLD COURTHOUSE

Personal Injury Suit of John Madden Goes to Jury.

The personal injury damage suit of John L. Madden against the Duluth and Iron Range Railroad company went to the jury in district court this afternoon. It is the last civil action to be tried in the old courthouse. Madden sued for $25,000 for injuries sustained while in the employ of the company as a fireman Dec. 19, 1907. He claimed that the engine on which he was working was run backwards at an excessive and dangerous rate of speed, and that he was thrown by a jolt of the engine against the edge of the weather-board, his hip being broken and he being crippled for life. All of the testimony was in last evening, and the attorneys took up the morning session with their arguments.

WAS OFF HIS BEAT.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—An interesting local point was argued out Wednesday and Thursday between Pierce Butler, representing the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway and the Minneapolis & St. Louis railway company. The latter was suing the railway and brewing company for $25,000 damages for the loss of his right leg.

Therefore Brewery Employee Struck By Train Got No Damages.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—An interesting local point was argued out Wednesday and Thursday between Pierce Butler, representing the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway and the Minneapolis & St. Louis railway company. The latter was suing the railway and brewing company for $25,000 damages for the loss of his right leg. Judge Olin B. Lewis, directed a verdict for the defendants. Mr. Butler having made the point that Shoen, though an employee of the brewing company's bottling house, was a simple wayfarer in the streets, and that he could not claim exemption from the duty of exercising ordinary vigilance on account of being engrossed in his work.

MANY AQUATIC FOWL GIVING HUNTERS JOY.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The flight of aquatic fowl is now in earnest, and the small lakes and marshes of this city are simply teeming with every kind of water fowl. For a week past the birds have been arriving by hundreds and thousands, settling on the farms and feeding mornings and evenings on the stubble fields which are scattered throughout the region indicated. Even the farmers have caught the excitement of the occasion, and though they ordinarily pay little or no attention to hunting as a sport, are this fall spending many cool mornings and afternoons in rounding out their larders with the approaching cold sheets every pond and river with a coating of ice.

UNIQUE QUESTION NOW BEING ASKED IN FARGO.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Would Pure Food Commissioner Laid rule that the water sold by Fargo to consumers is in violation of the state pure food laws? It is a question asked since the defeat of the bond issue Tuesday.

The vote was to establish a filtration plant. It failed because of dissatisfaction over the cost of the water supply is not regarded as satisfactory and he is asked for domestic purposes. There is considerable speculation as to what the result would be if a legal action was started against the city officials for selling the stuff that runs through the mains.

WOULD FIGHT NEXT APRIL

James J. Jeffries Says That Month Would Suit Him Best.

Johnson Willing But Insists on Big Forfeit Being Posted.

New York, Oct. 29.—Unless some unexpected hitch occurs, James J. Jeffries, retired champion, and Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight title holder, will settle their signatures today to articles calling for a battle for the premier title of the fist arena some time next April, before the club offering the largest purse.

The two pugilists and their managers were scheduled to meet this afternoon at an unspoken hotel to frame up the fighting agreement.

Between heaves of a medicine ball in a local gymnasium, Jeffries said today that the articles should be easily fixed, as he did not know of any points on which there would likely be any trouble.

"I'm ready to fight, and Johnson says he is," said the big Olinian, "and that's more than half of match-making. I think we should arrange to meet in April for this fight. I have three months to do a little stage work and let the public see my condition, and then I can have three months to train for the bout. I suppose the fight will be held in California. That at present seems the most likely place."

Jack Johnson was out fairly early today, flying around the city in a big touring car.

"So Mr. Jeff wants to wait till April?" said Johnson, smiling. "Well, that's a long wait, but he wants to take that long, only I want a big forfeit put up. I should think about $5,000 would be right."

"I'll keep in trim through the winter by doing a little light training. Yes, California would suit me as well as any place to fight Jeffries."

John L. Sullivan has telegraphed from Chicago saying that he would offer to referee the Jeffries-Johnson fight without charging a cent, and would guarantee the American public an honest and fearless decision.

John L. Sullivan always refused to meet a colored man, said Johnson, "but he was always on the level."

"I'm ready to accept him as a referee if Jeff is willing."

VANDERBILT CUP RACES

Twenty-Six Cars Are Entered in the Three Events.

Garden City, L. I., Oct. 29.—The twenty-six cars entered in the triple automobile race to be run over the Vanderbilt cup course for the Vanderbilt, Massapequa and Wheatley Hills trophies, were weighed in here today by Fred J. Wagner, the veteran race umpire and starter.

The cars are divided into four classes, and are to race all together but for three different distances. The smaller cars, entered for the Massapequa sweepstakes, weighed in at 1,300 pounds and over. The cars in this class will be sent away first at 9 a. m. tomorrow, and will be called on to make ten rounds of the circuit or 126.40 miles.

The cars in the next class, the Wheatley Hills sweepstakes, will be started immediately on the heels of the Massapequa entries but will continue on the circuit for an additional five rounds, covering fifteen laps or 189.60 miles in all. These cars were called upon to exceed 1,500 pounds in weight.

A third squadron to be sent away is the one in which the chief interest of the motoring public centers. This company is made up of the sixteen high-powered cars which are contenders for the Vanderbilt cup. These cars will be called upon to cover twenty-two turns of the circuit, or 278.08 miles. There are two sub-divisions in this class, the first weighing in at 2,400 pounds and over and the second at 2,100 pounds or more.

Preliminary to the weighing in, twenty-one of the twenty-six cars took advantage of the clear early morning to take a final spin over the course. By common consent, however, few of the drivers let out their motors the approach of the real contest acting as a strong deterrent to fast going, all being more or less apprehensive of damaging their cars, and thereby ending their chances in the race.

Bout in Portland.

Portland, Or., Oct. 29.—For the first time in six years this city was last night the scene of a boxing contest.

There were two ten-round contests. One was between Kid Sealer and Kid Harrison and the other between Fred Brooke and Jack O'Keefe. Both bouts were fast. Although a decision was prevented by the authorities, it was the general opinion that each bout would have been declared a draw.

Powell vs. Frayne.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 29.—Lew Powell and Johnny Frayne, two local aspirants to championship lightweight boxing honors, will meet tonight in a twenty-round contest. There is much interest in the bout in view of the chance the winner has of meeting Nat Nelson.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT NOTES

The camp and outing committee met at the boys' building last evening for dinner. The following members were present: Morrison Harris, chairman; Richard Callum, secretary; Roy Johnson, David Wanless, Griffith McConaughy, James Wharton, Herbert Roeker, Russell Duncan, Duncan Frick, Robert Kerr, Boyd Cook, Charles Jeronimus, John Naslund, Joe Boyle, J. R. Batchelor and N. D. MacLeod.

On account of the number of boys playing football, the committee will plan for only one Saturday outing, and that will be held the last Saturday of November. It will be a hike to the Jean Duluth farm. Robert Kerr, Russell Duncan and Duncan Frick will comprise the committee in charge. Joe Boyle, Richard Callum, Roy Johnson and James Wharton comprise a committee to arrange for a hare-and-hound run. It will be for the older boys. The run will probably be from Hunter's Park to the city.

Morrison Harris will be in charge of a stamp and curio club that will be organized next week. Gilbert Bates will organize the camera club. The Sunday club will meet for dinner this evening at 6 o'clock.

The social committee will conduct the Halloween social at 7:30 p. m.

GOPHERS vs. CHICAGO

Said a gentleman from Chicago yesterday:

"When it comes to shoe repairing you have got us beat. I never saw such equipment and such system, nor have I seen the work done so expeditiously and well in any of our shoe shops."

"And your place of business is so tidy. It's a pleasure to come and wait a few minutes watching you put on a pair of those soles."

"Our customers," we replied, "appreciate our efforts and keep us busy as bees."

"We have the only shoe shops at the Head of the lake, besides hundreds of cheap imitators, and the shoe stores are doing some repairing."

"Well, shoe stores don't pay much attention to repairing," broke in the Chicagoan, "unless they can make the same profit that they do on a sale of new shoes."

POLAR BEARS IN GRAPPLE

Animals Start a Cook-Peary Controversy of Their Own.

Two polar bears, actors at the Bijou this week, got into a Cook-Peary controversy this morning, and before the authorities succeeded in stopping the fight, the smaller animal had received a painful beating.

The animals were in a cage which, for advertising purposes, is placed in the lobby of the theater, and while it lasted the encounter was watched with interest by a large number of people, who cheered the smaller one on to greater efforts against his big adversary.

The scrag became so lively that the owners of the bears and the police took a hand. They had a hard time of it, too, for the bears were in a fighting mood and they resented any interference from the outside. Buckets of water were thrown upon the fighters, but they ignored it.

Groiling and screeching, they exchanged licks, scratches and hugs. The big one landed a terrible blow on the little fellow's snout, causing the blood to flow freely, but the little fellow was game and went at its big opponent again. The fight was uneven, however, as the large bear had a distinct advantage at every stage.

As the furry denizens of the land of the blubber, gum drops, keesegs and rival explorers, growled and wrestled, throwing sawdust in every direction and covering the policemen and spectators, the theater attendants and the officers were endeavoring to separate them by pushing in a board partition.

The fight was a success, however, in doing much to the disgust of the audience, who would like to have seen a longer fight, with the little one getting his unlines.

The cost of living will be reduced if you buy groceries at wholesale of Harber-Martin company.

OLD LANDMARK TO BE REMODELED

THE PHILLIPS HOTEL.

With excavation work for the new Scott-Kreider building on the north-west corner of Central avenue and Ramsey street already started, securing for West Duluth a new and up-to-date office and store building, there comes the announcement that the Phillips hotel, standing on the southeast corner of the same street, will be remodeled at a cost of $5,000 or more.

The Phillips hotel is another of West Duluth's oldest landmarks. It is owned by D. A. Fitzpatrick, who recently acquired the property from a Boston man through the agency of C. F. Crank of Duluth. The building has a 75-foot frontage on Central avenue and runs back along Ramsey street for 125 feet. It is three stories high. Mr. Fitzpatrick paid $20,000 for the plant for leasing the structure down and erecting a new hostelry were at first entertained by Mr. Fitzpatrick, but he has since changed his mind. The building is good for a number of years yet in many respects, and when it is remodeled it will be thoroughly up-to-date and modern in every respect. The building is about twenty years old.

The lower story of the building will be moved forward about ten feet, flush with the sidewalk on Central avenue. The porch will consequently have to be torn out to prepare for this improvement.

Two stories and the buffet will occupy the lower floor, with a frontage on Central avenue. The hotel entrance will be on Ramsey street, and only the back portion of the lower floor will be used for the office, kitchen and dining room. The upper stories will be devoted to sleeping apartments only. The new kitchen which will be built will have a cement floor, and cement floors will also be laid in the new eight-foot basement under the whole of the building. A new cement walk will replace the old wooden boards now used for a walk on Central avenue and Ramsey street.

The architect is F. A. Johnson, and he has the plans for the remodeling well under way. Most of the work may have to be postponed until next spring, according to Mr. Fitzpatrick, but by next summer it is expected that the improvement will be made.

It is possible that a portion of the remodeling may be done before cold weather sets in. If the plans can be placed in the hands of the contractor at once.

PROGRESS IN TRADE EXPANSION

New Trade, Oct. 30.—R. G. Dunn & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Further progress is making in trade expansion and financial conditions are more settled, while politics, in spite of the nearness of election day, do not materially affect the business situation.

The report from the leading trade circles are so uniformly favorable as to leave no question of doubt as to the widespread character of the revival. It is probably within bounds to say that the wealth of the United States made a better showing of growth than it is making at the present time.

If further evidence of the rapid expansion in iron and steel were needed, it is furnished by the report of the Steel corporation for the third quarter, and the appropriation of $10,000,000 for new construction for which the corporation has voted.

Improved conditions are still reported in the footwear market, but staples are selling well and shipments from Boston show an increase. Heavy trading characterized the packer hide market with branded hides for sale in the leather goods market. Traders in sole leather have improved conditions, many for-styled shoes being made in the Boston market, where stocks of union, hemlock and oak are low.

TRANSFER OF BUILDING

Judge Cant Accepts New Courthouse for the County.

Moving of County Records Is Now in Full Swing.

St. Louis county's new $100,000 courthouse was formally turned over to the board of county commissioners this afternoon, by the board of court-house commissioners, which had charge of the construction of the building. The proceeding, which was attended by little ceremony, took place in the main corridor on the fourth floor of the new building at 3 o'clock.

The transfer of the building on behalf of the courthouse commissioners was made by William J. Stevenson, attorney for the board, and Judge W. A. Cant of the district court accepted the building on behalf of the county. Congressman Clarence B. Miller accompanied the building for the public and C. S. Mitchell also made a short talk.

The Third Regiment band played.

The exercises were attended by several hundred citizens, who joined in the rejoicing over the completion of the building. After the exercises, the building was thrown open for inspection. It will be open all day tomorrow, also, and guides will be provided to show the visitors into every part of the new building.

The moving from the old building to the new is now in full swing.

Record for Moving.

The register of deeds' office set a record for the other day, yesterday afternoon at 1:30, the first van load of books left the register's office at the old building. Last night at midnight, every book and record was in place in the new office and this morning the attorneys were examining and recording papers for record this morning.

Hardly a moment was lost in the removal. Even the papers held for record yesterday were mailed from the office last night, and Monday morning, business will be transacted at the new office as usual.

Today, the judge of probate and the sheriff are moving, and they will record for business on Monday morning. Clerk of Court J. P. Johnson will move Monday, and Tuesday will be given over to settling. He expects to be all settled by Wednesday morning.

On account of today being the last day for the payment of taxes, the treasurer and auditor will not be able to receive at the county building this morning. They will be ready for business in the new courthouse Monday.

How Norton Will Move.

County Attorney John H. Norton told his moving men yesterday morning. "I will take my Justice's Manual under my arm Monday morning, and moving men will be here and begin doing business," he said.

The Last Moving Day.

The moving of the building into the new has caused the resurrection of a story that was in great vogue about the county building years ago. Once in the early days of Duluth, the county officials held out in Oneota. Lewis H. Merritt, father of Alfred Merritt, was auditor at the time. The courthouse was to be moved up town and bids were called for, for the moving job. Alfred Merritt was the successful bidder. The price was not known. The moving they were impossible. So Mr. Merritt loaded three books, the entire stock of books and records of St. Louis county, in a hand-sled and drew the sled along the bay shore on the ice to Duluth. Nobody vouches for the story, but it is told to emphasize the comparison between it and the comparison that attends the present removal.

Detroit, Minn., Oct. 30.—The October term of the district court today passed sentence on a bigamy couple. The final act of Judge L. B. Baxter being the sentencing of George L. Langphiers and Mrs. Rhoda May to three years each at Stillwater penitentiary on the charge of bigamy.

The couple were married in Hubbard county on July 30, and took up their residence on a farm in Green Valley township, this county. MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

A motion for a new trial in the case of Austin J. Meagher vs. M. N. Triplett was argued before Judge Dibel in district court this morning. The formal grounds that the verdict was not justified by the evidence and that the court erred in admitting certain testimony, were presented, and the defense also claimed that the attorney for the plaintiff committed an error in his argument by going outside of the evidence.

The latter charge was denied by the attorney for the plaintiff. He claimed that his argument was wholly within the rules. Judge Dibel took the matter under advisement.

GREASED THE CAR TRACKS

Cars Could Not Be Stopped on Fifty-Seventh Avenue.

The police at West Duluth will be on the lookout this evening for all Halloween celebrators.

Last evening a number of West Duluth youths bent on mischief, greased the street car tracks on the Fifty-seventh avenue west hill, and all cars slid down the grade as if it were a toboggan. Good laundry soap was also wasted on the windows of houses and stores.

Anyone who is caught in any deceptions will be locked up for the night, and will take his chance Monday in municipal court. The full force will be out tonight, according to Loewen, Wilcox. Greasing of car tracks is one prank that the police will not stand for.

RECEPTION FOR PASTOR.

Episcopal Congregation Will Honor Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Collier.

A welcome reception for Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Collier of the Holy Apostles Episcopal church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Ellnor street, will be held on Monday evening from 8 to 11 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lix of 5416 West Sixth street.

Rev. Collier is the new rector of the church, who came to West Duluth from Fond du Lac, Wis., to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. R. J. Mooney, the former rector. An informal program with music will be given at the reception. Refreshments will be served.

THE PROCTOR LINE.

Street Railway Official Will Come Here to Look Over Route.

C. G. Goodrich, president of the Twin City Rapid Transit company, which controls the local street car company, may be in West Duluth next week to go over the proposed route from Duluth to Proctor, with the special committee of the West Duluth Commercial club.

The Canadian Northern situation did come in for much discussion last evening at the club.

RECEIVED THE CAR TRACKS

Cars Could Not Be Stopped on Fifty-Seventh Avenue.

The police at West Duluth will be on the lookout this evening for all Halloween celebrators.

Last evening a number of West Duluth youths bent on mischief, greased the street car tracks on the Fifty-seventh avenue west hill, and all cars slid down the grade as if it were a toboggan. Good laundry soap was also wasted on the windows of houses and stores.

Anyone who is caught in any deceptions will be locked up for the night, and will take his chance Monday in municipal court. The full force will be out tonight, according to Loewen, Wilcox. Greasing of car tracks is one prank that the police will not stand for.

BARRILL'S STORY AGAIN ATTACKED

Another Montana Man Comes to the Aid of Dr. Cook.

Missoula, Mont., Oct. 30.—The Cook-Barrill Mount McKinley controversy was revived yesterday by the announcement of the securing of an affidavit from George W. Solleder, a prominent farmer of Ravalli county, living near the homes of Barrill and Pringle, in which Solleder declares Barthe full confidence of the Well-Informed of the World and the Commendation of the most eminent physicians it was essential that the component parts of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna should be known to and approved by them; therefore, the California Fig Syrup Co. publishes a full statement with every package. The perfect purity and uniformity of product, which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character, are assured by the Company's original method of manufacture known to the Company only.

The Figs of California are used in the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna to promote the pleasant taste, but the medicinal principles are obtained from plants known to act most beneficially.

ill told him he and Dr. Cook had climbed Mount McKinley.

Dr. Cook's confidential agent announced that other affidavits had been secured, but he had decided not to make them public at this time, as the matters had been promised that the statements would only be given to the proper scientific bodies and as evidence in the controversy.

Dr. Cook and his secretary arrived in Missoula late yesterday from Hamilton. Dr. Cook said he did not care further than to say the matter had now sifted down to a point where it was the affidavit of himself against the affidavit of Barrill and that the matter could only be settled by an expedition to Mount McKinley to recover the records which he says he left on the mountain and recover his records.

Slide Another Affidavit.

Being advised after his arrival here that the affidavit which he made on the platform at Hamilton was not properly drawn, Mr. Cook made another affidavit in Missoula, which was drawn in legal form, and his signature to it witnessed by a notary public. The duplicate recites the same facts as the statement made in the original written upon the platform at Hamilton, and reads:

“I, Frederick A. Cook, being first duly sworn, according to law, on my oath, depose and say that on Sept. 16, 1909, I was on the top of Mount McKinley, and on that date I left the record of our climb deposited there. Edward N. Barrill of Darby, Mont., was present at the time.”

Dr. Cook was generously applauded during his lecture last night. There was no evidence of anything but approval. A business men's delegation from Helena asked Dr. Cook to lecture there tonight. He accepted.

ELKS' HOME DEDICATED

New Building on First Street Formally Taken By Lodge.

Hundreds Throng the Beautiful Club House During the Evening.

Although members of Duluth lodge, No. 132, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, have been occupying their handsome new building, on First street, between Third and Fourth avenues west, for several months, the formal dedication did not take place until last evening, when appropriate exercises were participated in, not only by local members of the order but by Elks from Superior, the ranges, the Copper country and other places.

The Elks made the dedication a brilliant affair and the evening was thronged during the exercises and later gave the Elks a social session, during which speeches were made by Charles Mayworm of Hancock, Mich., and E. R. Rosner of Superior, A. E. McManus, chairman of the building committee, reviewed the lodge's work to secure the beautiful home and concluded by presenting the keys to Mr. McPhee. The ideal trio, vocalists and instrumentalists, gave a specialty. E. L. Millar acted as chairman for the social session.

The dedication was conducted by J. D. McPhee of Crookston, Minn., who is deputy grand exalted ruler of the order. Albert H. Hall of Minneapolis, delivered an address during the exercises and later gave the Elks a social session, during which speeches were made by Charles Mayworm of Hancock, Mich., and E. R. Rosner of Superior, A. E. McManus, chairman of the building committee, reviewed the lodge's work to secure the beautiful home and concluded by presenting the keys to Mr. McPhee. The ideal trio, vocalists and instrumentalists, gave a specialty. E. L. Millar acted as chairman for the social session.

The building was built and furnished at a cost of $132,000. The ground floor is leased, but the Elks occupy all the rest of the building, their rooms including a beautiful lodge hall, artistically furnished and equipped, and comfortable club rooms. The structure was erected under the direction of the following building committee: A. E. McManus, P. McDonnell, Henry Foltz, J. W. Hillard, H. W. Andridge and George S. Munsey.

Some beautiful souvenir programs were distributed last evening.

CROSBY COMPANY TAKES AN OPTION

To Explore Land Near Deerwood, Tested By Rogers-Brown Company.

Deerwood, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Crosby Exploration company has taken an option on the land owned by Ole P. Erickson in section 6, and will start drilling there in the early part of next summer. The land was “optioned” to the Rogers-Brown Ore company some time ago, and they put down several holes, but were unsuccessful in finding ore and released the option.

The new shaft which is being put down by the Rogers-Brown Ore company out at the Kennedy mine is now down approximately 102 feet. Everything is going along nicely, and they expect that they will be on ledge in the early part of the coming summer.

The work on the Northern Pacific depot is going along finely. The contractors have all the shills installed and are now working on the repairs to the waiting room. The company has added an addition to the depot in the way of a waiting station for the general public. They are also building a new freight house, which was very badly needed.

The work on the hotel over in the new addition is going along splendidly and the concrete walls are just about finished. If this good weather continues for a few weeks longer they will be able to get all this concrete work done in time for the summer. Mr. Dankroger has a big gang of men on the job.

Mrs. Charles Blom and family left Monday for Duluth, where they will remain for the winter. They had been here all summer in their summer cottage on Serpentine lake. Mr. Blom had some work to finish up here which will take him in the neighborhood of two weeks and when completed he will take his family to Duluth. They sold their cottage to G. E. Lent who is about to plant the same and make it fit for a winter home.

The contractors on the south line of the Cuyuna Iron Range railroad are making great headway with the work but Mr. McMenemy is not altogether satisfied and is accordingly making arrangements for two more teams of shovels which he hopes to have on the job in about a week.

It is rumored that Edward Burelich has been appointed as postmaster of the village of Cuyuna to take the place of Raymond Olson, who recently sold out his business in that village and moved to Deerwood.

Fort Frances, Ont., Oct. 30.—It is state on good authority that the Canadian Northern road, realizing the growing importance of Fort Frances as a passenger divisional point and the increased amount of traffic from this station, have had plans prepared for a new up-to-date station, fitted up with all modern improvements, including water and electric light.

Those who have seen the plans say that it will be one of the best stations along the main line and in keeping with the growth and progress of Fort Frances, not only now, but for the future. The present inadequate station has only been at the best a makeshift, and instead of enlarging it the officials have wisely concluded to build an entirely new building at another point where they will have better yard facilities and station grounds. Just where it is to be located is not known, but it is rumored that it will be a short distance east of the present station. Separate baggage and express rooms with large spacious waiting rooms, lavatories and offices for the officials will be included in the building.

30 Years of Success

E. M. Tredway Offers a Remedy for Catarrh. The Medicine Cures Nothing if It Fails.

When a medicine effects a successful treatment of a majority of cases, and when we offer that medicine to our own personal guarantee that it will cure you nothing if it does not completely relieve catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe us, or at least put our claim to a practical test, without any risk. These are facts which we want the people to substantiate. We want them to try Rexall Mucous-Tone, a medicine prepared from a prescription of a physician with a record of thirty years of enviable success in his specialty, and who has a record of thirty years of enviable success in his specialty.

We receive more good reports about Rexall Mucous-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store, and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Mucous-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh remedy we would have any demand for.

Rexall Mucous-Tone is quickly absorbed and by its therapeutic effect tends to disintegrate and cleanse the entire mucous membrane, to destroy and remove the parasites which injure the mucous tissue, to soothe the irritation and heal the soreness, stop the mucous discharge, build up strong, healthy tissue and relieve the blood and system of diseased matter. Its influence is toward stimulating the mucous cells, aiding digestion and improving nutrition until the whole body vibrates with healthy activity. In a comparatively short time it brings about a noticeable gain in weight, strength, good color and feeling of buoyancy.

We urge you to try Rexall Mucous-Tone, beginning a treatment today. At any time you are not satisfied, simply come and tell us, and we will quickly return your money without question or quibble. We have Rexall Mucous-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Mucous-Tone in Duluth only at our store, The Rexall Store, E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

Government Agents Are Red
Hot After Illegal Booze
Sellers.

Drunken Squaw at Park Rapids Barely Escapes
Being Killed.

Cass Lake, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The activity of the government agents in rounding up illegal dispensers of liquor is bearing fruit and the developments of the past few days in this section indicate that the sale of liquor to Indians is going to be effectually checked. The special Indian agents have been mysteriously appearing and disappearing for the past six weeks and have apparently solved the problem of who have been selling to the red men. For the past week they have made their appearance when least expected and have rounded up several bootleggers and blind piggers in most every section of this district.

When Frederick W. Zohman, the representative of the brewing companies, came to this section May last, and after calling together the different saloonmen, told them that the sale of liquor to Indians must stop or the saloonmen would be blotted out, most of them were not taken him seriously and continued the sale of liquor. For almost six months things ran along without a word said.

But in the meantime the special agents in almost every section of the district were watching the situation and when they were firmly convinced that the liquor dealers persisted in selling to Indians, William E. Johnson, the head special representative of the Indian department, served notice that all the saloons in Cass county as well as the liquor removed to some other place. Soon after this representatives from Walker and Cass Lake called on Mr. Johnson and in behalf of the saloonkeepers asked for one more chance. The special representative refused to think of such a thing, and ever after much persuasion he finally consented to allow the saloons to run for a few days longer. When the allotted time was up all the dealers who had been ordered to close, without any exceptions, closed their saloons and removed their liquor outside of the county.

Since the date of closing the government has been watching the dealers right and left. They apparently know just where to find the men they are after.

It is expected that within a short time the liquor dealers who have been captured and then the closing of saloons will probably have been completed.

DRUNKEN SQUAW HAS A VERY CLOSE CALL.

Park Rapids, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mecca-day, at Cass Lake this week, with a delegation of men, came near being a tragedy. East Grand Forks, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city is in the midst of an exciting campaign, which will come to a close at the polls next Tuesday.

J. J. O'Leary and C. Kellerher are the opposing candidates for mayor, and they have both been putting up a hard fight during the past few weeks. Kellerher is a present member of the city council, while J. O'Leary was formerly mayor, being defeated two years ago by Hugh Dunlevy.

THE PASSING OF THE OLD COURTHOUSE

JUDGE J. B. MIDDLECOTT

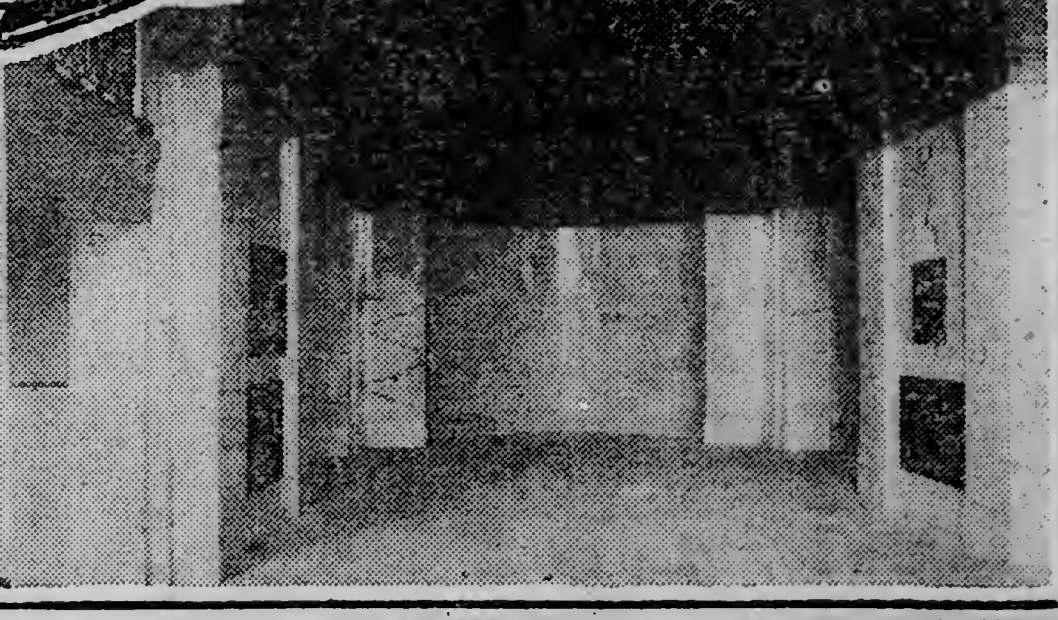

COURTROOM NO. 1 IN THE NEW BUILDING.

THE OLD COURTHOUSE.

ONE OF THE JURY ROOMS IN THE NEW BUILDING.

THE MAIN LOBBY OF THE NEW BUILDING.

THE old courthouse on the hill will soon be deserted.

The building that has served as a courthouse, meeting place and many other things in its time, will be stripped bare, all but the windows, and the small boys of the neighborhood will doubtless soon fix them.

The courthouse has been the butt of many a joke, but now the richest building in the state is to move into a building that every Duluthian will point to with much pride.

No longer will visitors be driven some blocks out of the way and the resident entertained when he is forced to say, "and that is the courthouse."

The old structure has been called everything from a petrified jellyfish to a junk pile, and it does justice to both names. But homely and unattractive as it certainly is, the old building is associated with both city and county history in many ways that the older citizens are not likely to forget as long as they remain on this earth.

Many a political fight has been carried on behind its walls; many a city and county legal case has been threshed out; many were the disputes followed by love feasts in the olden days that took place in the main hall of the old building.

Could the old building tell its own story it would rival Robert W. Chambers as an author of romance. In the olden days the block in which it stands used to be known as "Court-house Square." It was there that the young couples used to stroll and many a story has been told on its steps. The old building plays a part in the history of individuals as well as of the city, county and state.

Recalls Many Memories. It is associated with the most pleasant of memories and also with memories that to some are not so pleasant. Many have been married in the building. Some have gone back years after to have Cupid's mistakes corrected. Many have come from the building after long suspense with head erect and afraid to look no man in the face. Others have come, with lowered head, receiving the death sentence. However, the outcome, many troubles have been settled, and thus the building is memorable to many on this account.

Aside from all this, the building has served its purpose. It has housed St. Louis county documents for many years. It has been the scene of all legal battles and stands solid and secure as though proud of the fact that it has withstood the storms for so long and looks as presentable as it does at the present time.

It was a queer place—this courthouse. Many unusual things have happened there—things that may never be repeated in the history of the county.

In 1882 the building was erected, after much discussion, a bitter political fight and many other unusual happenings too numerous to mention.

Previous to this time the county officers had to content themselves with small and dingy quarters in the old Manning building, at Second avenue west and Superior street. The offices there would hardly be called offices, and there was general dissatisfaction.

Everybody agreed that a courthouse—a real courthouse—was necessary. The party that was out of power hated to see the party in power deliver the new building, and thus get the credit for its erection. The party in power was just as anxious that they should furnish the building, and thus make themselves stronger than ever with the voters.

Every move of those in power was thwarted. The other party was watching equally as close, and there was general dissatisfaction by the people at the way things were going.

It came time to replat the Portland addition. The parties that owned the land offered the present site as a place on which to erect the county building. The land was made over to Judge Ensign and several associates. After much delay the building was erected, at a cost of $16,000. It was considered quite a building in those days, and there was a general church served lunch, and harmony again reigned supreme.

At that time only the main part of the present building was built. There was one courtroom upstairs, and the first floor was used for offices. At this time J. P. Johnson, who is now clerk of the court, was county treasurer. Alex Schuetz was a clerk in the county auditor's office. George Berkelmann was county auditor. Joseph Kilchil was clerk of court, and Judge O. P. Stearns was the only judge of the district court. Judge Stearns, Louis Kilchil and Joseph Mannheim are now dead.

The Old Courtroom. There was one large courtroom upstairs that had to do for all the cases. There was one large box stove in the center of the room, and the judge and every one else got as close to it as possible when the weather was cold. Indeed, there was quite a scramble to see who would have the warm places, and the only way to settle this was to decide who was there first. This made every one get up early, and sometimes the spectators and others arrived before the fire was lighted.

Sawdust was sprinkled about two inches deep all over the floor before court started, so that those who used tobacco might not be forced to use too much.

After court hours this same place was used as a general meeting point. All the old pioneers were in the habit of meeting after the session, and they would spin yarns by the hour. Many a family history has been given over by the old crowd that used to hang forth, and many a hunting story has been told.

The whole building was at this time heated by stoves, and many the scrap that took place each fall over who should have a certain heater.

Some years after this a central heating plant was installed in the building, and then there was warmth for all.

The "Warts" Break Out. Soon after the heating plant was put in the war began to come. The first one was built on the auditor's office. It was called Dinham's wart, because a man by this name fathered the movement that was made to move the building.

The building was fast becoming overcrowded, and extra room was needed to care for the extra workmen that were needed. Nobody remembers what year this was, but it must have been a long time ago, for the war has been sprouting out all the time.

It might be mentioned that they were first labelled "warts" by a Herald reporter.

Wart No. 2 was built on the register of deeds office. This force too needed more room, and the only thing to do was to tack on another addition.

Wart No. 3 was made for the probate judge. He had to have a place of some kind, and although talk of a new courthouse was already in the air, it was thought advisable to tack on another addition in order that there might be room while the building of the new courthouse was in progress.

Wart No. 4 was built on the treasurer's office. It was hardly thought worth while at the time, as the new courthouse was to be started any day, but there still was another wart built on the auditor's office before the new building was begun, and there was still difficulty in getting the new building.

It was along about the time of the building of the first wart that some real excitement occurred in the county building. The sheriff at that time was Paul Sharpy. Judge Ayers was at the time holding the probate bench. Sheriff Sharpy wanted the quarters held by Judge Ayers, and Judge Ayers was loth to give them up. The permission of the county commissioners was secured by the sheriff to have the probate office quarters, but still Judge Ayers refused to give them up.

One night, in the still darkness, about 12 o'clock, Sheriff Sharpy, with the aid of some of his deputies, moved the office effects of the probate office into the old quarters occupied by the sheriff's outfit, and his own effects into the former probate office. The removal being made at night, it was not known until the next morning, and when Judge Ayers reached the building he found his quarters occupied by the sheriff and his crew putting the books and other office fixtures in their places. There was a hot time around the county building for some time afterward, but things finally smoothed over and the incident was forgotten.

Two Hangings. There have been but two hangings in the history of the courthouse. The only one remembered is that of Charles Henderson, the negro, who murdered his mistress in a rooming house near Fifth avenue west. He was sentenced by Judge Cant, and met his end in Courtroom No. 1. The late Sheriff Butchart sprung the trap. The case attracted a great amount of attention at the time, and the courtroom was crowded as it has never been since.

Among the other notable trials was that of Sarah Ham against George Potter, a wealthy Duluth lumberman, for breach of promise. She sued for $20,000, and she got $20,000. This verdict was later set aside when it was proved that she had been guilty of misconduct.

Among the other famous cases were the Clark mining case and the Mueller case. Both of these cases dragged along for some time in the local county buildings, and they, too, aroused more than ordinary interest.

Another famous murder case thrashed out was that of Soular and Verrill, two Biwabik boys who murdered an old man for his money. The money amount- ed to something like $2.50. They both received life sentences, and are now serving their time. This was probably the most cold-blooded murder ever committed within the jurisdiction of this court. Calling the attention of the old man, who was piling wood, to a flying hawk, one of the boys shot him through the body, and then the other had emptied his gun into the body.

The halls of the old building have resounded with the ringing pleas of eloquent lawyers. There have been strenuous times mixed with those of a more quiet nature, and the old structure has held up through it all.

Though practically every county official and employe will gladly leave the old courthouse, with its inconveniences and lack of conveniences, for the beautiful new building, equipped with every modern facility for the transacting of the heavy business of the county, some of them will not leave without a looking back and a few tears at the heart strings.

The old courthouse is an antiquated structure, built in and for the short-sighted present of twenty years ago. It has outgrown its usefulness long ago, and the new building has come none too soon. The county officers have been handicapped for years in carrying for their business, and they and their employes will welcome the change. But some of them are in the position of the man who wouldn't for the world think of living in the homely log cabin in which they were born, but who cannot look upon it, abandoned and dilapidated, without a queer feeling in the region of the heart.

Like Home to Them. A man's office, in which he spends a large part of every day, has something of the heavy business of the county, some of them will not leave without a looking back and a few tears at the heart strings.

WORK AT WARRIOR PROPERTY

Intensely Gratifying to Management—Sixty to Seventy Tons Shipped Daily—Station Being Cut on Sixth Level of Superior & Boston.

Globe, Ariz., Oct. 30.—The result of the development work done on the Warrior mine since it was taken over by Hoval A. Smith has given the management great satisfaction. Work has now been done on levels at the 900, intermediate, the 300-foot level and the 300-foot intermediate slope. The drift in the 300-foot level now run there is exposing 10 per cent ore. This drift is part of a plan outlined to develop the mine by sinking a new shaft back 100 feet apart and the present showings on the 300-foot level indicate that the ore is all the better. The ore is being opened there. The ore grades in all the stopes are about 10 per cent. The output of these stopes, the shipments now amount to between sixty and seventy tons a day. The new shaft is being sunk by the El Paso smelter. About fifty men are employed at the Warrior mine. The new shaft, owned by the McGraw shaft of the Superior & Boston Copper company, a station is now being run. The ore is now being finished, crosscutting toward the Great Eastern vein which lies a few hundred feet from the new shaft. The station on the sixth level of the McGraw will be thirty-five feet long with a width of 10 feet. The shaft of the Gardner shaft, drifting west toward the Black oxide vein is still progressing. Better Movement in Metal Shipments From Houghton—Smelters Turning Out More Metal Than at Any Time Within Two Years —Encouraging Situation Underground at the Hancock.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the close of navigation drawing near, a better movement in metal shipping from this port is expected. The boats are operating without a break, and are turning out more metal than at any time within two years, the present rate of output being about 100,000 pounds of fine copper monthly, comparing with a monthly average of 19,500,000 pounds in 1901, 19,000,000 in 1902, 19,000,000 in 1903, and 19,000,000 in 1904. The output of the year 1905 is expected to be 19,000,000 pounds, and that of the year 1906 19,000,000 pounds. This output is not being all shipped, but is being stored in the Portage Lake docks are comparatively free of the metal, so that when the opportunity offers, it will be possible that local stocks will have been accumulated. A considerable quantity of copper has gone to the United States, and is being carried by rail during the past summer, indicating a local shortage. The return of export cakes and bars shows a material decrease, with the exception of the United States, as is now being shipped to the foreign Indiana. The explorations of the Indiana company have resulted in the discovery of copper ground at a depth of 100 feet from the surface of the Lake lode. Five feet of exceptionally good copper ore was obtained with the drill hole temporarily bottomed in the lode, further sinking being found impracticable. It has not been positively identified, but is thought to be an extension of the Lake lode. A second drill hole is being sunk and is expected to tap this lode at somewhat less than 100 feet.

Butte, Mont. (Special)—The Calumet & Hecla. "According to reliable information progress toward a general strike of the copper producers is being slow but satisfactory progress, and it is possible that something will be accomplished in the near future," it was learned today. It may be announced on the subject within a month. It was certain to be brought about when John H. Harriman, president of the Calumet & Hecla Consolidated Copper company, Mr. Ryan and a few of his associates have been standing among producers in order to give great satisfaction to the latter. It is just as they have always advocated a policy of expansion for the industry, and the future. A fact not to be overlooked is that John H. Harriman was actively interested in the proposed copper organization, and prevented, it is likely that the organization will be formed in the near future. The story is that Mr. Ryan had the earnest assistance of Mr. Harriman in the proposed strike. Mr. Harriman J. P. Morgan took up the work of the Calumet & Hecla company, a very prominent copper producer is authority for the statement that the strike includes practically all of the big copper producers, and that the latter will probably not come in, though a thorough fight will be had under which it will regulate its production. The proposed strike are already in the United States. The Calumet & Hecla company, W. Clark Morgan and the Guerguenhens, the Colorado River interests, and several large mining companies, and other Americans the entire American output will be under control. Altogether, it is the possible exception of the Calumet & Hecla company which is producing 1,500,000 tons of copper per year, and a sum out of a total of nearly 1,500,000,000 tons.

Calumet & Hecla's Attitude.

It is claimed that the understanding of the Calumet & Hecla company is such a character that that company will not be able to meet the demands of the market and in proportion that its output bears to the total output of the country. The directors of the Calumet & Hecla have been very much opposed to the producers, but their arguments were outweighed by the older producers, and the latter are on the ground for their opposition, arguing that any combination of the producers would be against the laws of the state of Michigan, but is contrary to the public interest, and is morally wrong. On the other hand, the producers are claiming that trust and curtailment of production are the only way to place themselves under the Roosevelt policy of conservation of the natural resources of the country. In the past system, they argue, the mines were worked out, and the America have been largely wasted, and copper is now being mined and dumped in the ground. They claim that some of the producers appear to be exhausted, and that they will exhaust their estates. In the Lake country and in Arizona the River and the Colorado River are already very limited, and their ends are already reached. The deposits that are being opened are distinctly limited, and their periods of production are very short. The year at the present rate of output will be exhausted, and the government of agitation by the government.

the people about conserving the forests, the land and the water of the country.

"I am not saying," he continued, "but these questions are no greater than the question of conservation of our forest lands. We must plant trees and replace those cut away by the same land and water supplied by a new supply, and the land, with proper care in cultivation, will give the same land and water productive for all time, but one once taken out of the ground is out for good."

"It takes millions of years to produce new mineral deposits. Not so with the waste we stopped for these reasons, but to place the copper business on a permanent basis and end the business basis. That it is sound business to conserve the product and to raise the price of the metal to a point that will yield a reasonable profit on the production should be evident to us without argument. By a slight curtailment of over-production of copper distributed all over the country no producer will suffer and no community will have any effect from the restriction of operations. I expect to see this same

LAKE SUPERIOR IRON MINES

Shipments for Past Month Estimated at 6,500,000 Tons—Total for Season Will Be Greater than in Any Previous Year—Good Progress on Cuyuna Range Road.

lakes the past month have been hampered on account of stormy weather. Nevertheless it is estimated that approximately 6,500,000 tons have been moved and the total for the season has been increased to 38,200,000 tons. This compares with 37,550,000 tons for the corresponding time in 1937.

The movement broke all records. There is no question that the Lake Superior region will send out more ore this year than ever before. The movement by Great Lakes stevedores is 41,282,750 tons. The movement during November and December was only 4,200,000 tons. The movement shown for the year is materially greater than during the closing weeks of 1937, and it is not doubtful that the movement for the remainder of the year will substantially exceed that of two seasons ago. In fact, it is believed that the movement for the year will round the 43,000,000 ton mark easily. Last year there were moved by water only 38,200,000 tons.

Destined to handle an immense tonnage, the Great Northern's extension from Duluth to Grand Rapids branch at Nashwaug west to Grand Rapids forms an important link of the Mesabi range. The branch, which is now nearly completed now, the new railroad line will be prepared shortly to serve the various mines of the range. The difficult topography of the country considered, the construction of the extension has made excellent progress. The work was started in the last week of 1937, and is some twenty-three or twenty-four miles. Some big cuts and much fill have been made. The extension is 1,100,000 cubic yards of earth to have been handled. Eight steam locomotives, 100 flat cars, 100 gondolas and twenty narrow gauge locomotives and 400 ballast cars. Not only has the extension been constructed, but the furnishing railroad facilities for the new mines now being opened at the western end of the Mesabi range. The extension is being built for the purpose of providing a shorter route to the shore of Lake Superior. The extension is 15 miles long, from the Prairie, two miles east of Grand Rapids. Extensive switching and a large amount of grading has been done and from that point ore trains will be run direct to the docks at Ashland. The extension will increase the transportation's output from the Hill lands will be handled, and beginning with next season the most important and profitable feeders of the Great Northern system.

Good progress is being made in the construction of the Cuyuna Range road, which will connect the advanced out from the junction with the Soo Line at Moose Lake, and it is expected that the road will be opening into Atkin prior to Dec. 1. It trict. With a few weeks more drilling means the mine now being opened in the Live Oak workings, this mine will be one of the largest located. On the 200-foot level the drift of the Live Oak workings is still in good concentrating ore averaging 35 per cent in copper. The drift is now out forty-eight feet from the drift. On the third level the drift that is now being worked is 100 feet in width is now 35 feet long and is continuing in the same kind for some time. Recently the grade of this ore has improved to 35 per cent in copper. The crosscut running west from this drift on the third level has been in concentrating ore of a good grade all the week. The average yield of this drift is 100 tons of a good quality of ore. General Manager M. F. McEwen says that the drift of the Live Oak very gratifying.

originally sunk for the working shaft, but the ground was so loose that the ground caved in. Since then the Alpha has been retimbered and double set, put in where the weak spots were developed, and it will be used for the exploration of the Old Glory hill. The richest ore in this working was opened up in the 1,200-foot level, proving similar to the ore in the limestone on the Monarch and Clipper shafts of the Ely Central. In fact, the same iron capping through which the ore comes up in the Ely Central continues are 4 by 5 feet, one being a manway and the other a pipeway. The fifth is 5 feet 8 inches by 10 feet in the clear and is to be used as a manway and for the handling of timbers.

The shaft is down six sets or a depth of thirty feet. The collar set is to be filled in with concrete and the shaft lagged all the way down. The upraise has four chutes within 400 feet of surface with the same number of compartments as above, but the timbering is only temporary.

Concrete foundations have been laid for the machinery with which the shaft will be operated and the hoist and hoisting gear are already on the ground. The hoist was formerly in use at the Old Glory shaft.

The Giroux will be the main working shaft of the Giroux Consolidated estate. It is being sunk in the immediate vicinity of the shaft, in the line of which it is connected at the 1,000-foot level by a 700-foot crosscut.

The location was selected with a view of getting into safer ground than the Alpha shaft. The latter is now considered sufficiently safe for the work demanded of it. The Alpha was Five other shafts have been sunk to the Giroux to depths varying from 300 to 500 feet. The Old Glory has developed direct smelting ore, while the Bunker, Brooks No. 1, and Morris No. 1 in the porphyry. The Brooks No. 2 shaft has been sunk in the porphyry on account of a fault coming in, but the ore was picked up in the Morris.

Good progress is being made on the spur track, the completion of which will connect up all the workings of the Giroux Consolidated with the main line of the Nevada Northern.

The election of Thomas F. Cole to the presidency means that a vigorous campaign will be followed out. Drill will be set at work in the limestone on the Richard claim, south of Bunker Hill, the holes to be the largest in the district. The plan for concentrator and smelter to be erected by the company have not been made known, but they will without doubt be on a most magnificent scale. There much has been promised by Cole and the improvements, when once set in motion are to go ahead at wonderful speed.

point, from which depth crosscutting to connect the Pinto with the 400-foot level of the Hamilton shaft can be done if desired, as the collar of the Pinto shaft is 141 feet higher than that of the Hamilton.

As the Pinto shaft is now down to the depth required by the terms under which the property was bonded from the Pinto Creek Copper company, 51 per cent of the Pinto stock which has been in escrow in Globus will soon be turned over to the Cactus Development company. The Pinto stockholders have been notified that the shaft is down to the depth agreed

At the Hamilton shaft, the work drifting and crosscutting on the third, fourth and fifth levels is progressing steadily. Main drifts are being run east and west on these levels and at intervals of 200 feet crosscuts are being driven in accordance with the plan to explore the property in 20,000 foot squares. The third level is almost wholly in ore averaging 2.4 per cent in copper. The fourth level is partially in ore, and so far, ore of commercial grade has not been disclosed.

ing that section of the district to rich in copper deposits and carrying high-grade silver ore. The Milwaukee-Corbin shaft is now down about 100 feet and the last thirty feet has shown immense improvement. The whole bottom of the shaft is reported to be good and there is no indication that before a depth of 250 feet it reached the crosscut will open into commercial ore. On the surface, a number of open cuts have proved veins to be from 40 to 100 feet wide, carrying 10 per cent copper and 100 per cent silver values. It is understood that an entirely new surface equipment has been ordered, with capacity for sinking to a depth of 1,000 feet.

ing insulated, and many of the properties are either using electricity or are about to adopt it. The pole line of the Missouri River Power company is being extended into the district so rapidly that it will be nearly every property in the district will be using electricity.

The survey of the electric line from Butte to Helena has been completed and it is believed that the line will be built and in operation early next year. This will give the district the impetus of development of the district and permit the shipment of low-grade ore.

Recent developments in the power industry in the district have attracted wide attention to the district, and with the developments at the Boston & Corbin, is profeet. During the past ten days a number of properties have been taken over under option, and mining men of prominence from all over the country are flocking to the district for their attention. More capital is coming into the district than at any previous time, and surprise is expressed that the merits of the district have not been more generally known.

The great influx of capital and active development which has been commenced during the summer has created a renewed interest in the district of Corbin. Real estate has taken on new lease of life, and town lots are in good demand. Several new buildings have recently been erected, and the camp is assuming a more permanent appearance than ever.

NEW HOUSE IS OPENED

Notable Gathering at Banquet in Tower's Fine New Hostelry.

Duluthians Toast the Towerites on Growth of Their City.

Tower, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The banquet connected with the formal opening of the new Vermilion hotel last night was one of the most notable events of the kind ever held on the Vermilion range. Men who figured in the early days in this section and helped make Tower and surroundings were present from their homes in Duluth and other places, while many people flocked over for the auspiciousness of the occasion.

The spacious dining room was crowded when the banquet began at 9 o'clock. A seven-course dinner was served as follows:

Chicken Broth, Home-made Noodles, Olives, Celery, Salted Almonds, Sherry, Oyster Croquettes, Apple Fritters, Roast Pork, Baked Irish or Sweet Potatoes, Sugar Corn, Cocktails, Roast Turkey, Oyster Dressing, Cranberry Sauce, Mashed Potatoes, Potato Salad, Mayonnaise Dressing, Green Apple Pie, Pumpkin Pie, American Cheese, Ice Cream, After Dinner Mints, Pittsburg Stigles, Tower Cigars, Brandy, Champagne, Cordials.

The speakers were introduced by Toastmaster P. H. Chas. Smith. Walsh made a short address, relating briefly the experiences of his first trip to Tower in '92, before there was a railroad, and the hardships endured by himself and friends who blazed their path from Agate to this city. Mr. Walsh's interest in Tower has been from that time and it is due to his untiring efforts that the Vermilion range and Vermilion Iron & Steel companies are now pushing extensive explorations in this vicinity.

Following Mr. Walsh, the toastmaster introduced Joseph A. Reynolds of Duluth, who gave a very interesting talk on the city's past as he had known it, and future as he hoped it to be. He gratulating Towerites on the beautiful new hotel, and on the fact that the Vermilion range was now a part of the city. He then introduced Mr. Ferdinand E. Kolb, president of the Vermilion Iron & Steel company, and Mr. Chas. Smith, who gave a brief history of the Vermilion range and its future.

County Commissioner Neil McNelis of Eveleth, an early day resident here, greeted old friends and residents and gave a few well chosen and fitting remarks on the city's progress and the future which he believed bright and promising.

Adam Bede Reminiscences. Ex-Congressman J. Adam Bede addressed the gathering in his usual witty manner, making a number of references to the time when he was a Towerite. He related a number of interesting incidents of his life in Tower, and gave a number of names of old residents, whose names had faded down, but were very interesting. Among these were names of old residents, whose names had faded down, but were very interesting. Among these were names of old residents, whose names had faded down, but were very interesting.

Concluding the reminiscences Mr. Bede spoke of our duty to ourselves and our country as American citizens and the importance of the Vermilion range and its future.

Several toasts were drunk and the merry party of 200 guests proceeded to their homes at 11 a. m. The second evening's entertainment consists of a dancing party which will be held in the spacious dining room tonight. La Brosse's orchestra will furnish music for this occasion also.

The erection of this beautiful hotel and the extensive explorations in the vicinity mark an epoch in the history of Tower, and according to present indications, those who have been faithful to the old town will soon be rewarded.

West End Democratic Club Will Support Him for Mayor.

City Clerk Is Outlining His Platform—McKnight Has Withdrawn.

H. W. Cheadle, city clerk, was tentatively endorsed as the Democratic candidate for mayor at the meeting of the West end last night.

The committee named at the last meeting to secure a candidate continued its office until Mr. Cheadle shall have drawn a platform. He proposed to outline the platform upon which he shall stand. The committee does not object to this and there is no difficulty, Mr. Cheadle will in all probability enter the lists as the Bourbon standard bearer.

Alexander G. McKnight, who has been considered a strong possibility against Mayor Haven at the Republican primaries, has declared that he will not enter the lists. He says that although he and the mayor have differed on some matters, yet Haven's administration has been generally satisfactory.

Mayor has several important matters under way and that he should be given an opportunity to complete them. The committee waited upon Mr. Cheadle at his office in the evening.

The city clerk told them his position upon the salary and light questions. He declared that, if elected to the office of mayor, he would insist upon all salaries being promptly paid at 11 o'clock, and he believed in the elimination of business residence districts. The committee took the matter under consideration and will report at the next meeting of the club, to be called at an early date.

Mrs. Fredericka Hallquist of 2826 Huron street, says: "When I went to Dr. Mitchell I was in a hopeless, helpless condition. I had kidney and heart trouble and my friends all thought I was dying. I am now enjoying good health. While treating at the office I saw many that came as a last resort to Dr. Mitchell and they were all convalescing. Several of my friends are treating with him and they are being restored to health. I will be glad to substantiate this statement to any one."

After Using Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Haxel Says She Renewed Her Youth.

Los Angeles, Calif.—"As I was passing through the trying period, change of life," writes Mrs. J. F. Haxel, of 1224 Hobson St., "I was so sick at times that I could not stand on my feet for four or five days at a time. I tried three different doctors, but none of them did me any good."

"I read in your Almanac about Cardui and got a bottle, which brought relief at once and after using 2 bottles I was entirely cured."

"I am nearly 48 years old and feel very well. My complexion is as clear as when I was 25, and I now do all my own house work. I will always speak a good word for Cardui."

THESE MEN ARE THE BUILDERS OF OUR NEW PACIFIC HIGHWAYS

WILLIAM ROCKEFELLER, FINANCIAL BACKER OF A NEW PACIFIC.

Written for The Herald by E. J. Edwards ("Holland")

(Copyright, 1909, by E. J. Edwards.)

Possibly you are numbered among those Americans who can easily recall the great excitement occasioned throughout the country when the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads met and it was at last possible to journey across the continent by rail. If this is the case, then you doubtless remember, also, the great interest the country took in the completion of another steel highway to the Pacific—Henry Villard's Northern Pacific. And in this connection perhaps you will recall that the knowing ones of that time declared that these two Pacific, the Northern and the Union, in alliance with the Central and the Southern, would furnish the United States all of the transcontinental transportation facilities that it would need for the next half century.

But there came along, after a few years, a man who thought differently. One James J. Hill—and he is world-famous today because he pushed through a third steam highway to the Pacific coast. He was followed by Edward P. Ripley, whose energy and faith, backed largely by Boston capital, gave to the country, yet another transcontinental outlet, the Atchafalpa, Rockwell & Santa Fe system.

In part coincident with the building of this last system came the advent of E. H. Harriman into the Pacific railway, and when, at last, he had triumphed the knowing ones of that day said:

At last we have in the United States three great Pacific railway systems—the Hill system, the Harriman system, the Santa Fe system—and it will be many a long year before there will be need of another.

But, as James J. Hill confused the knowing ones of his young manhood by building the Great Northern, and Edward P. Ripley drove their confusion further home a decade and a half later by building the Santa Fe system, so the knowing ones of a few years ago stand today stripped of their prophetic garments by a former drug clerk, a former telegrapher, a former merchant's apprentice, a former office boy, a former life insurance agent, and a former county school teacher.

Two New Pacifics in One Year. The former life insurance agent expected, these are the men, who with the proper financial backing have given to the country within the last four years three new highways to the Pacific. And, curiously enough, two of them were completed this year almost on the same day, an event in the way history of the country that is unparalleled.

The former drug clerk is Roswell Miller, the former telegrapher is Albert J. Earling, the chairman of the board of directors and as president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, respectively, these two men planned, and pushed through to completion, this year, the building of the St. Paul extension, the 1,489-mile extension from the city of St. Paul, Minn., to the Puget sound harbors of Seattle and Tacoma.

The former merchant's apprentice is Edward T. Jeffery. The former office boy is Charles H. Schlack. Mr. Jeffery, as president of the Denver & Rio Grande, a Colorado, and George Gould how he could easily secure a Pacific outlet for his Missouri Pacific. Mr. Gould approved, and just about the time that President Earling was witnessing the driving of the last spike in the St. Paul extension, Mr. Jeffery and his right-hand man, Charles Schlack, announced to Mr. Gould the spiking in place of the final rail of the Western Pacific, running from Salt Lake City to Oakland, Cal., opposite San Francisco, with a track of 220 miles.

The former county school teacher is a copper king, a former United States senator, and, incidentally, he has been accused by his enemies of carrying around in a handy pocket one of the largest states that go to make up the Union. The name he signs to his checks is W. A. Clark. His Pacific railway stretches a southwesterly direction from Salt Lake City to San Pedro, the port of Los Angeles, a distance of 206 miles. It runs through a desert for more than 500 miles. It almost skirts Death valley, it has eaten up millions of his builder's dollars, yet it is a true outlet to the Pacific, and its owner is confident that some day, with the coming of water, over the desert through which the road runs will blossom the rose. This is the road that is known as the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake, and it was completed about four years ago.

As for the former life insurance agent, until now forgotten, his name is Arthur E. Stillwell, and he it is who is rapidly pushing to completion this year the Pacific railroad that is ultimately to become a true transcontinental system, the first railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific entirely under one control. He has named his road the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, and its route is a southwesterly from Kansas City to the Mexican harbor of Topolampam, a railroad distance of 1,000 miles. Common report has it that he and Edwin Hawley are well-known ambition is to perfect a true transcontinental system, and so Mr. Stillwell's Pacific road ultimately may be a very important link in the proposed transcontinental system.

Roswell Miller, a Modest Big Man. Clark, Earling, Stillwell—these are

was now engaged in building railroads in the Middle West. Recognizing that the general took him in his employ, and so put Mr. Miller in the path that was to follow all his life.

Thus Mr. Miller got his railroad training, and while he was his employer to build in that part of Illinois familiarly known as Egypt, a railroad running from Cairo to Vincennes, Ind., he had the extra good fortune to come under the eye and gain the approval of J. P. Morgan, then one of the chief stockholders of the new road, which is now a part of the Big Four system. As a result, the banker ultimately made Mr. Miller a vice president and the treasurer of another road in which his sponsor was deeply interested.

Here Mr. Miller remained a year, and then went to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul as assistant to the general manager. Seven years later he became president of the road, and as such he practically made this property what it is today.

Miller Remakes the St. Paul. For years prior to his becoming president of the St. Paul, it had been borrowing money with which to declare dividends. The new executive gave it as his opinion that he didn't see the wisdom of robbing Peter to pay Paul, and stopped paying dividends until such time as the road actually earned them.

Also, for years prior to his advent as president, that part of the road lying west of the Mississippi was practically run separately from that part of the road lying east of the great river. In other words, the two parts were rivals, to all intents and purposes, the managements of each part making no pretense to work in any except the most superficial harmony. Even the signals by which trains were moved were different on each part of the road as divided by the Mississippi. Here was a splendid chance for executive action, and Mr. Miller seized it at once, with the result that a great many things happened until there was established among the employees an esprit de corps that stretched from end to end of the system.

Nine crowded years Mr. Miller put in as president of the St. Paul. Then, that he might devote most of his time to the financial end, he became chairman of the board of directors, surrendering the presidency to Albert J. Earling, who, like his immediate predecessor, is said to be on friendly terms with every spike and tie in the road with which he began as a telegrapher.

The friends of both men say that they go harmoniously largely because of the fact that to each man the St. Paul is the business apple of his eye. On one occasion, Mr. Harriman, who got to know Mr. Earling well in the board meetings of the Union Pacific, said to the latter:

"Earling, would you be willing to become president of such and such a railroad (naming it), at such and such a salary (naming it)?"

"Mr. Harriman," was Mr. Earling's reply, "all my life has been spent with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. I have grown up with it. I know it as any man can learn. It is everything to me except my home and family, and I think my place is there as long as the stockholders and directors want me."

Mr. Earling, who is six years younger than his colleague, entered the employ of the St. Paul when he was 18, just Mr. Miller's age when he went to the defense of the Union. Both men, by the way, are not only self-made in business, but also in education. Mr. Miller has been an inveterate reader all his life and his library is well-thumbed. His one hobby is collecting antiques, an indulgence that he permitted himself even in the years before he took up the task of putting new life into the St. Paul.

Western Pacific. The career of Edward T. Jeffery, George Jay Gould's effective and victorious right arm so far as the construction of the Western Pacific railroad is concerned, furnishes an excellent illustration of the fact that the higher prices of the railway service do not go by favor, nor are they won by any family influence or social distinction, or political pull.

Born in Liverpool the same year that Roswell Miller saw light in the little Pennsylvania town of Harford, Mr. Jeffery was brought to this country by his parents while still a lad, and he was only 12 when he became an apprentice in the machine shops of the Illinois Central in Chicago. He went into the shops without attracting notice and without friends. But one day the superintendent of his department discovered the lad attempting to teach himself the rudiments of mechanical drawing, and from that time forth he received plenty of opportunities to show what was in him for the good of the Illinois Central. And so, twenty-one years after entering the road's employ, he, a young man of only 34, became its general superintendent.

At that time the Illinois Central was gradually but surely expanding towards the West and the Southwest, and one day General Supt. Jeffery would be in St. Louis, another in Southern Illinois, another at Memphis, and yet another at Kansas City, studying general railroad conditions. In such manner he taught himself what the resources of the remote West are, and what the relation of railway transportation to the development of them would be. It was the possession of this expert knowledge that brought him ultimately into close association with George Gould, and so made of him the chief builder of the Western Pacific.

When Jay Gould took hold of the Missouri Pacific system, as he said half facetiously, to see what he could do with it—to find out if he had constructive railway ideas—his first realized that if the system were to be perfected, it must get at least as far west as Colorado, and there touch the Union Pacific. When George Gould came into absolute control of the Gould roads, he realized that the highest consumption of the Missouri Pacific would be through the creation of a transcontinental line, reaching west to the Pacific, and east to the Atlantic, partly by means of the Washash railroad, another Gould property.

How he was kept from reaching the Atlantic seaboard is recent railroad history.

But Mr. Jeffery, then, as now, president of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, also a Gould property, agreed perfectly with Mr. Gould that it was of the highest consequence to the Gould system that there be such continuation of it as would give it an outlet to the Pacific coast. Mr. Jeffery insisted that a railroad should be constructed from Salt Lake City with such low grades and such slight curves, and through a region already teeming with industrial and agricultural activity, sure to be increased, that it would be certain to obtain profitable business from the start.

"How is it going to be financed?" Mr. Gould asked.

"Let the Denver & Rio Grande be its sponsor," replied Mr. Jeffery. "Let us take its stock and we guarantee its traffic, and there will be no difficulty about securing funds."

Mr. Gould bowed before the wisdom of Mr. Jeffery, and even when told that he would arouse the antagonism of Mr. Harriman and the Santa Fe crowd by undertaking the proposed line, he persisted in doing so. So the Western Pacific, completed this year, stands as a memorial to the indefatigable energy and the railway statesmanship of Edward T. Jeffery, who was directly in charge of the work of construction, as the road's president, but one of the numerous Gould railroad presidencies that he holds, the number including that of the Washash. In fact it is upon Mr. Jeffery that Mr. Gould relies in very great measure for satisfactory operation of the Gould properties.

The late E. H. Harriman, excellent judge that he was of men, and railway men in particular, used to speak in high admiration of the manner in which Mr. Jeffery was then building the Western Pacific, and also of the latter's persistency in insisting that the engineers should construct the road that it would have very low grades and inappreciable curves. It is said that Mr. Jeffery himself not infrequently demonstrated to his engineers how a low grade or reduced curve could be obtained, calling to his aid such a time his knowledge of draughtsmanship gained when he was with the Illinois Central as a youth. As a draughtsman he probably is without a peer among the higher railroad officials of all time.

The Man Who Planned the World's Fair. Indeed, so skillful a draughtsman is Mr. Jeffery, and so thoroughly did he perfect the details of building the construction, that when the commissioners who were preparing for the great fair at Chicago were looking about for just the man who could tell them how to plan the buildings, and how to construct them after they were planned, they turned to Mr. Jeffery, who at that time
